Lansing Breach, Started in Paris, Widened During Mexican Crisis.

WILSON TOLD OF CABINET'S WORK

History of Sessions Called by Lansing is Revealed.

President Gave Approval in Interview with Palmer.

Grayson and Tumulty Often Attended Deliberations.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The Cabinet sessions called by Secretary Lansing during President Wilson's illness, concerning which the latter protested in forcing the resignation of his Secretary of State, were instituted on October 14, about two weeks after the President was stricken following his return from the western speaking tour on the peace treaty issue.

At the time Secretary Lansing called the first meeting there was genuine alarm about the President's condition and it was deemed by Mr. Lansing and the President's other Cabinet advisers that, in the interest of the government, the condition of the President should be made known to his department heads. Just about that time there was agitation over the probable necessity of calling upon the Vice-President to assume the Presidency. Cabinet members had been besieged upon that point, particularly from members of Congress who were uneasy over the situation.

When Secretary Lansing called the Cabinet to meet on October 14, it was understood to have been with the approval of the President. Certainly it was not done without the knowledge of Mr. Tumulty, secretary to the President, who was in constant touch with Mr. Lansing, and who was regarded at least as being in touch with the President through Dr. Grayson.

Members of the Cabinet supposed at least that the President was kept fully informed regarding the meetings held, inasmuch as they were attended, not only by Mr. Tumulty on numerous occasions, but by Dr. Grayson also. Besides, the President's illness when the first meeting was held, the coal strike had been ordered, and it was incumbent upon the government to act in the matter.

Following the meeting of October 14, it was announced that the Cabinet had decided to take hold of public matters pressing for attention. The first thing that was done at the meeting, however, was to send for Dr. Grayson, who made a report on President Wilson's condition. As a result of the report the information was given out that it was the unanimous view of the Cabinet that Mr. Wilson was not able to supervise the affairs of his office with the proper aid of his official advisers. All talk of calling upon the Vice-President to assume the Presidency was thereafter dropped in so far as administration officials were concerned.

SESSION INFORMAL.

The matter of the President's ability to function being cleared up the Cabinet discussed the pressing questions of moment, particularly the threatened coal strike, and informally arranged a division of work. Secretary of Labor Wilson was assigned to take hold of the coal strike and to prevent its execution if possible.

The sugar shortage, then a critical problem, was given over to Secretary Houston, then of the Agricultural Department; Secretary Baker was assigned the general economic and industrial situation brought to the front just at that time by the steel strike, threatened coal strike and widespread indications of radical ascendancy in various parts of the country. Secretary Lansing, it was stated, would take on no extra duty because of the pressure of foreign affairs which more than kept him busy. There also was some consideration given to the advisability of an informal Presidential board to function for the President in a sort of unofficial way, but it was decided that this should not be done.

HELD PARIS REINS.

Secretary Lansing, in discussing the conduct of foreign affairs at the time, said that in view of the President's illness and his inability to consult with him on important matters it devolved upon the Secretary of State to act for and as the President, and that he was doing so. Mr. Lansing did not state this for quotation, but said it to correspondents who pressed him for an understanding of the situation. Mr. Lansing made it plain that all direction of the American peace mission then at Paris was being conducted by him, asserting that he knew the President's mind so clearly on all that pertained to the negotiations at Paris that he could conduct the necessary negotiations just as if the President were not ill.

Immediately after this meeting it was the general understanding among officials and at the Capitol that the government affairs were being administered by the Cabinet and references were general in all newspapers and in official quarters to "Cabinet government."

THE COAL CRISIS.

Thereafter the coal situation became acute and Secretary Wilson, after failing to get the miners and operators into agreement, submitted the matter to the President through Mr. Tumulty and Dr. Grayson. The President issued a statement on the subject appealing to the miners not to strike, virtually commanding them to call it off, but the miners took no heed, determined to strike November 1, 1919. Again the Cabinet was called to meet on October 26, the notices of the meeting being sent out by Secretary Lansing. At that time it was believed that the President knew of the meeting, if, in fact, he had not directed that it be called. At that meeting, much against the wishes the Secretary Wilson, the matter of the injunction against the miners under the Lever law, was discussed. Immediately after the session, Atty.-Gen. Palmer said that the government lacked no means of "carrying the President's decision that there must be no strike" into effect.

Two days later, October 28, Secretary Lansing called the Cabinet again for consideration of the coal strike situation, after which Secretary Lansing stated:

GAVE STATEMENT.

"The situation is not hopeless."

Atty.-Gen. Palmer then began to frame up the Federal injunction and held frequent conferences on the matter with Secretary Wilson, Director-General Hines and Fuel Administrator Garfield, who had been summoned to Washington by direction of the President. On October 30, after the Cabinet had held several of these meetings concerning which Mr. Wilson complains, Atty.-Gen. Palmer held a conference with the President in his sickroom. He went to the President's room immediately following another of the Lansing meetings held at 11 o'clock that morning.

Dr. Garfield had participated in the Cabinet meeting in an unofficial capacity and the Cabinet authorized Mr. Palmer to say that the President would be asked to issue an order restoring price restrictions on coal. Then Mr. Palmer went to the White House where it was said he found Mr. Wilson eager to see him. "The President was alert and keen to discuss the situation," said the Attorney-General. "I outlined to him everything that the Cabinet had done and what it contemplated doing, all of which the President approved. He also offered some suggestions for future action in the premises."

KNEW OF MEETING.

This statement from the Attorney-General certainly was taken as proof that the President knew that the Cabinet was meeting and was functioning in the matter of the coal strike, at least.

Immediately after this the injunction suit was filed and the Cabinet held several meetings to formulate plans while conferences between operators and miners were being held in an effort to reach an agreement. These sessions were stormy with Dr. Garfield and Secretary Wilson at variance on the matter of what percentage of wage increase the government should stipulate for the miners, Secretary Wilson insisting upon 31 per cent, and Dr. Garfield 14 per cent. Secretary Wilson was enraged when the Cabinet sustained Dr. Garfield and it was reported that he would protest to the President. Whether he did or not is unknown, but later, after Mr. Tumulty and Atty.-Gen. Palmer made the proposition to the miners which led to a settlement of the strike, it was apparent that the President had been consulted.

GARFIELD RESIGNS.

It became also apparent a few days later that he rather leaned toward Secretary Wilson than Dr. Garfield, for he accepted Dr. Garfield's resignation when he determined to quit because of disapproval of the Tumulty-Palmer terms of settlement, which permitted a Presidential commission to negotiate with the miners with a view to giving them more than 14 per cent. increase. That ruction in the Cabinet between Secretary Wilson and other members, it is now believed, had something to do with arousing the President's disapproval of Secretary Lansing in calling the department heads together.

Several meetings of the Cabinet were held in November in which the Mexican crisis, then becoming acute over the Jenkins kidnaping incident, was also discussed. Secretary Lansing sent the notes to Carranza demanding the release of Jenkins, which amounted practically to an ultimatum. There was great excitement over this and Senator Fall introduced a resolution in the Senate calling upon the government to sever relations with Mexico unless Carranza came to terms completely. He had conferred with Secretary Lansing on this matter and announced that his resolution had Lansing's approval.

THE FALL RESOLUTION.

When the Fall resolution was pending Mr. Lansing went before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and discussed the Mexican policy with utmost frankness, using the word "supine" to characterize the American attitude, according to a member of the committee. Lansing, in the meantime, had not seen the President. The Foreign Relations Committee, in view of Lansing's description of the government's policy, thought it would be useless to pass the Fall resolution if the President would not carry it out and they designated Senators Hitchcock and Fall to attempt to consult the President. They did see the President, and on the following day the President wrote them a letter telling them not to pass the resolution. That squelched it, and in view of the fact that Mr. Lansing had been in favor of the aggressive policy, it is now believed that the President was thoroughly angry with him. It was reported that he sought several times during that crisis to interview the President and was denied an audience.

Mr. Lansing, in fact, later admitted to members of the Senate that the President had refused to see him. This was a clear breach and Mr. Lansing was expected to resign any day at that time. The fact that he did not was generally believed to be due to his reluctance to take such a precipitous course while the President was ill. A few Cabinet meetings have been held since, but they have been perfunctory and it was not until a few days ago that Mr. Lansing admitted that the President had directed that no more Cabinet meetings be held unless he called them.

The President gave a clear hint of his frame of mind over the situation while the Mexican crisis was at its height in his letter to Senator Fall on December 8, in which he said the adoption of the Fall resolution "would constitute a reversal of our constitutional practice," and added: "I am confident that I am supported by every competent constitutional authority in the statement that the initiative in directing the relations of our government with foreign governments is assigned by the Constitution to the Executive and to the Executive only."

In the light of the breach with Secretary Lansing today and in view of the fact that the Cabinet had been discussing the Mexican issue without him, it is now apparent that the President had Secretary Lansing as well as the Senate in mind when he wrote the Fall letter.

TUMULTY STATEMENT ON CABINET SESSION.

PRESIDENT'S SECRETARY KNEW DETAILS OF MEETING ON OCTOBER FIFTH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—When the Cabinet met October 5, Joseph P. Tumulty, private secretary to the President, issued a formal statement explaining the reasons for the conference. He said:

"The Cabinet was called to consider questions in which more than one department was concerned, and also to discuss the industrial conference." He referred to the first conference called by the President with the hope of allaying the industrial unrest.

In his statement, Mr. Tumulty said Rear-Admiral Grayson, Mr. Wilson's physician, was present and "suggested that only urgent matters" be brought to the President's attention. Thereafter until this week, the Cabinet met more or less regularly. During the coal strike it met twice a week in an effort to avert the walkout of the miners, and several weeks ago it was decided to have meetings every Tuesday and Friday.

NEW HAVEN PAPERS RESUME.

the department heads into session because of the belief of himself and some of his colleagues that there were matters upon which action could not be postponed until the Executive could be consulted.

The Secretary said it never occurred to him that in calling the meetings he was acting unconstitutionally or contrary to the President's wishes and that he never had any intention of usurping Presidential authority. He reminded the President of his endeavors to carry out his policies, despite the inability to consult him, but added that if Mr. Wilson thought he had failed in loyalty or had lost confidence in him he was ready to tender his resignation. Two days later Mr. Wilson wrote Mr. Lansing, expressing his disappointment at the Secretary's reply. "I have to remind you, Mr. Secretary," the President crisply wrote, "that no Cabinet action could be taken without the Executive and, therefore, there could have been no disadvantage in awaiting action" until he could be consulted.

THE REAL GRIEVANCE.

Then the President came to his real grievance against Mr. Lansing. He realized that in Paris Mr. Lansing was carrying out his instructions with "increasing reluctance" and he said he had noticed that since returning to Washington the Secretary frequently sought to forestall the judgment of the executive by formulating policies and action and asking approval afterward.

The President's complaint on this score has special reference to the action of the Secretary in regard to Mexico. In dealing with the increasing arrogance of Carranza culminating in the Jenkins case Mr. Lansing finally came to the conclusion that it might be necessary to sever relations with Mexico. He gave consent to the Fall resolution in the Senate requesting the President to break relations and withdraw recognition of Carranza.

Mr. Lansing had been unable to gain access to the President, though other Cabinet members had seen him and it now looks as if permission to consult him was refused at the instance of the President himself. Senator Hitchcock, however, forced the reference of the Mexican matter to the President who promptly repudiated Lansing's action and killed the Fall resolution. After that the handling of the Mexican policy was taken out of Mr. Lansing's hands.

LANSING'S CAREER IN DIPLOMACY BRILLIANT.

ENTERED STATE DEPARTMENT IN 1914, AFTER FINE SERVICE AS ARBITER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Secretary Lansing is the third Cabinet officer appointed by President Wilson to quit after differences with the Executive.

Mr. Lansing was appointed Secretary of State ad interim after the resignation of Mr. Bryan, and served until June 23 of that year, when he was made Secretary. He has not announced his plans for the future, but is expected to return to the practice of international law, as did his father-in-law, John W. Foster, when he completed his term as Secretary of State.

Mr. Lansing entered the State Department in 1914 as counselor, after having represented the government on a number of diplomatic missions and arbitration commissions. These included service as associate counsel in the Bering Sea arbitration in the early nineties, counsel before the Bering Sea claims commission in 1896 and 1897, solicitor and counsel for American representatives on the Alaskan boundary tribunal in 1903, and counsel in the Atlantic fisheries arbitration about ten years ago.

The retiring Secretary is 55 years old, and was born and raised at Watertown, N. Y., where he still maintains a home. He was graduated from Amherst College, and practiced law for three years before beginning his work as representative of the government on various international arbitration commissions.

LETTERS SHOW ENTIRE DISPUTE.

Very sincerely yours,
WOODROW WILSON.

Hon. Robert Lansing, Secretary of State.

The Secretary of State:
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, 1920.

My Dear Mr. President:

I wish to thank you sincerely for your candid letter of the 11th in which you state that my resignation would be acceptable to you, since it relieves me of the responsibility for action which I have been contemplating and which I can now take without hesitation as it meets your wishes.

I have the honor, therefore, to tender you my resignation as Secretary of State, the same to take effect at your convenience.

In thus severing our official association I feel, Mr. President, that I should make the following statement which I had prepared recently and which will showyou that I have not been unmindful that the continuance of our present relations was impossible and that I realized that it was clearly my duty to bring them to an end at the earliest moment compatible with the public interest.

Ever since January, 1919, I have been conscious of the fact that you no longer were disposed to welcome my advice in matters pertaining to the negotiations in Paris, to our foreign service, or to international affairs in general. Holding these views, I would, if I had consulted my personal inclination alone, have resigned as Secretary of State and as a commissioner to negotiate peace. I felt, however, that such a step might have been misinterpreted both at home and abroad and that it was my duty to cause you no embarrassment in carrying forward the great task in which you were then engaged. Possibly I erred in this, but if I did it was with the best of motives. When I returned to Washington in the latter part of July, 1919, my personal wish to resign had not changed, but again I felt that loyalty to you and my duty to the administration compelled me to defer action, as my resignation might have been misconstrued into hostility to the ratification of the treaty of peace or, at least, into disapproval of your views as to the form of ratification. I therefore remained silent, avoiding any comment on the frequent reports that we were not in full agreement. Subsequently, your serious illness, during which I have never seen you, imposed upon me the duty—at least, I construed it to be my duty—to remain in charge of the Department of State until your health permitted you to assume again full direction of foreign affairs.

Believing that that time had arrived, I had prepared my resignation, when my only doubt as to the propriety of placing it in your hands was removed by your letter indicating that it would be entirely acceptable to you.

I think, Mr. President, in accordance with the frankness which has marked this correspondence and for which I am grateful to you, that I cannot permit to pass unchallenged the imputation that in calling into informal conference the heads of the executive departments I sought to usurp your Presidential authority. I had no such intention, no such thought. I believed then, and I believe now, that the conferences which were held were for the best interests of your administration and of the republic, and that belief was shared by others whom I consulted. I further believe that the conferences were proper and necessary in the circumstances and that I would have been derelict in my duty if I had failed to act as I did.

I also feel, Mr. President, that candor compels me to say that I cannot agree with your statement that I have tried to forestall your judgment in certain cases by formulating action and merely asking your approval, when it was impossible for you to form an independent judgment because you had not had an opportunity to examine the circumstances with any degree of independence.

I have, it is true, when I thought a case demanded immediate action, advised you what, in my opinion, that action should be, stating at the same time the reasons on which my opinion was based. This I conceived to be a function of the Secretary of State, and I have followed the practice for the past four years and a half. I confess that I have been surprised and disappointed at the frequent disapproval of my suggestions. I have never failed to follow your decisions, however difficult it made the conduct of our foreign affairs.

I need hardly add that I leave the office of Secretary of State with only good will toward you, Mr. President, and with a sense of profound relief.

Forgetting our differences and remembering only your many kindnesses in the past, I have the honor to be, Mr. President, sincerely yours,
ROBERT LANSING.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, 13 February, 1920.

My Dear Secretary: Allow me to acknowledge with appreciation your letter of February 13. It now being evident, Mr. Secretary, that we have both of us felt the embarrassment of our recent relations with each other, I feel it my duty to accept your resignation, to take effect at once, at the same time adding that I hope that the future holds for you many successes of the most gratifying sort. My best wishes will always follow you, and it will be a matter of gratification to me always to remember our delightful personal relations.

Sincerely yours,
WOODROW WILSON.

Hon. Robert Lansing, Secretary of State.

Council of League of Nations Wants His Help.

Saar Basin Commission is Formally Appointed.

Canada Aroused by Lenroot Treaty Reservation.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Council of the League of Nations concluded its sessions today. The next meeting of the Council was fixed for March 15, at Rome.

On motion of Baron Matsui, the Japanese representative, the Council agreed to place under the guarantee of the League the stipulations of the treaty between the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, on the one side, and Poland on the other, in so far as they affect persons belonging to racial, religious or linguistic minorities in Poland.

The Council agreed to admit Switzerland as an original member of the League of Nations, accepting the Swiss government's conditions for maintaining Swiss neutrality, and her refusal to participate in any military operations undertaken under the auspices of the League, or to permit the passage of foreign troops through Swiss territory, but agreeing to participate in any economic pressure applied by the League. Switzerland's admission to the League, however, is dependent on a Swiss referendum confirming these conditions.

Arthur J. Balfour, the British representative, who presided at the meeting, announced that a commission composed of members of the Council would be instructed to summon a conference of the states concerned to study international exchange and finance difficulties.

FOR SAAR BASIN.

A Saar Basin commission was appointed, consisting of M. Rault, member of the French Council of State, chairman; Alfred von Boch Landrath of Saarlouise for Saar; Count de Moltke Hyidfeldt for Denmark, and Maj. Lambert, for Belgium. A fifth member of the commission will be announced later.

Each member will be paid 100,000 francs yearly, the chairman receiving an extra 50,000 francs for entertaining.

Elihu Root has been invited to become a member of the committee to prepare plans for the constitution of a permanent court of international justice. The list was announced at today's session.

Mr. Balfour said:

"Maybe, for one reason or another, Mr. Root may not deem it desirable to accept the Council's invitation. The Council hopes he will always remember that he will be welcome at whatever stage of our sittings he may be privileged to accept to add to our deliberations the great weight of his learning and name."

ROOT NOT APPRISED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Elihu Root said today he had not yet received an invitation from the Council of the League of Nations to become a member of the committee which will plan a permanent court of international justice. Until he received such an invitation he declined to indicate whether he would accept the honor.

CANADA AROUSED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) Feb. 13.—Canada has given Great Britain notice that it objects to any change in the covenant of the League of Nations which will prevent the Dominion from being a full-fledged member of the League and having a vote in the Assembly.

After a meeting of the Cabinet last night, urgent representations were forwarded to the Imperial authorities protesting against acceptance by Great Britain of the Lenroot reservation to the peace treaty, which now is being considered by the United States Senate.

PARIS SLIGHTS HURT LANSING, SAY FRIENDS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Mr. Lansing accompanied the President to Paris in December, 1918, as one of the peace delegates, but his friends have said that while Mr. Wilson was at the Peace Conference Mr. Lansing virtually was without authority and that naturally he felt this keenly, since the other Allied and associated countries were represented by their premiers and not the heads of their governments.

Mr. Lansing finally returned from Paris before the work of the American peace delegation was concluded, being succeeded by Frank L. Polk, Undersecretary of State. The friction between himself and Mr. Wilson continued after he came back.

CAPITAL TO WAR ON ALIENS' BAN.

Congress will be Scene of Struggle with A.F.L.

Unions Try to Exclude Foreigners Two Years.

Pressure Being Brought Now to Get Bill Through.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Congress will shortly be the scene of a struggle betwen capital and union labor over the question of the suspension of immigration for a prescribed period, possibly two years.

Although the net influx of foreigners since the armistice has been negligible while more aliens are now leaving than are entering the United States, the American Federation of Labor, intent upon repressing the competition of immigrant labor, is preparing to swing all its influence to put through a bill shutting off all immigration temporarily.

With labor scarce and wages the highest in the history of the country, employees are demanding more and cheaper labor and preparing to fight the suspension bill, which, they contend, would restrict the expansion of industry and retard the natural processes relied upon to reduce the cost of living.

Chairman Johnson intends to convene the House Committee on Immigration within the next fortnight to consider the legislation regulating immigration which he purposes to press the passage before the adjournment of this session of Congress. His aim is to provide immigration regulations to go into effect upon the expiration of the present passport restrictions, March 4, 1921.

A TWO-YEAR SUSPENSION.

The principal measure submitted to the committee will be Representative Johnson's bill, which provides for a two years' suspension of immigration, for the prevention of the immigration of undesirable citizens and for the supervision of aliens in this country until they become citizens.

The Federation of Labor will appear in support of the suspension provision but will encounter great opposition in the committee itself. Several members are of the opinion that the suspension will be rejected by the House. The Federation, however, is determined to carry the fight to the last ditch.

The prevailing opinion is that Congress will refuse to suspend immigration for any period but will provide additional safeguards against the incoming of undesirable aliens and closer supervision of resident aliens, possibly requiring the holders of permits requiring them to report regularly to the authorities.

CLOSE SCRUTINY.

Under the Passport Control, immigrants now are required to obtain passports from their governments and to have them viseed by American Consuls. Consuls are instructed to investigate every applicant to determine whether he is a member of a group in his community or sympathizes with whether he is of anarchistic or bolshevistic tendencies. If a desirable or such person applies for a passport, the application is refused and the reasons which he cannot contest are given.

Consuls are now stationed in Washington, Constantinople, Athens, Rumania, Bulgaria, Russia and Poland. The State Department now has "many" applications rejected by Consuls.

The great influx of immigrants from war-burdened countries predicted by Immigration Commissioner Caminetti has not yet materialize. For nearly a year before the war immigration was coming in at the rate of more than a million a year, approximately 1,000,000 of whom eventually remained. At the beginning of the fiscal year immigration statistics reached 311,843 in 1919, while emigration of aliens increased tremendously.

The net increase of aliens from immigration was 326,700 in 1914, 50,670 in 1915, 141,132 in 1916, 216,498 in 1917, 110,618 in 1918 and 20,796 in 1919. During the fiscal year of 1919, 141,132 aliens were admitted and 110,618 departed. From July 1 to December 31, 1919, the excess of arrivals over departures was 20,796, the latter than the influx, 141,132, being admitted and 110,618 departing.

In the last decade the total increase of the population from immigration has been about 2,000,000, while in the last two and a half years it has been negligible and during the year after the armistice was signed more aliens are departing than are arriving. Resumption of immigration on a large scale is expected within the next three years.

BEGIN MEXICAN TRADE CONFAB.

One Hundred Forty American Delegates Attend.

Conference is Historical Event for Republic.

Prosperous Condition Noted Along Railroad.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12.—The first United States-Mexico trade conference in history of the two republics opened this morning in the ancient stone walls of the School of Mines, bordering a Spanish courtyard roofed only by a cloudless blue sky.

One hundred and forty delegates, who arrived in a special coach, were present from the United States. They had been on the way since last Friday morning. The coach was delayed for one day for repairs and slow time was made in Mexico on account of the troubled condition of the country, which will not permit the running of trains in the mountain districts during the night. An armored car, filled with Federal soldiers, ran ahead of the train to keep bandits, who live in the mountains between Saltillo and San Luis Potosi, from swooping down upon the travelers.

Members of this delegation who have been in Mexico many times on business trips say that conditions along the Mexican National Railroad, from Laredo to the capital, indicate the prosperity of the people who are better clothed than in former times, when there were so many beggars.

In 1918 these business travelers saw bodies hanging from the telegraph lines along the roadside and were greeted by swarms of half naked beggars at the stations. The evidence of a more general interest in education and political affairs was also noted. In Monterey there was a big political parade in progress in honor of Gen. Obregon, former Minister of War, who is a candidate for President of Mexico at the elections next July.

DICTATORSHIP MERELY RUMOR.

The story that President Carranza is to become dictator of Mexico and refuse to permit an election, is declared to be unfounded.

On the train was a party escorting the body of Prof. Palo Libas, a Monterey teacher who died in Texas five years ago. His people had not forgotten him. They put on their best clothes and came to the railroad station. The funeral was something of a celebration. The minister in charge made a short oration from the platform at each station and the train was held while the people passed through the flower-decorated car.

Hundreds of school children dressed in black and white marched with the band at Monterey. In the funeral escort the contrast was sharply seen, as the train passed to the Mexican side of the Rio Grande at Laredo. In place of comfortable homes there were huts of adobe and yards littered with chickens, pigs and naked children. The people seeme to have no means of regular subsistence. The soil of this country for hundreds of miles has hardly been touched. It is like the desert of Nevada and Utah or the Mojave country of California.

ONE SMELTER REOPENED.

The blue line of the hills is always in sight. The plains stretch away in solitude under a hot and brilliant sun. Cactus and mesquite form the chief feature of the landscape. One reopened smelter and ruins of many homes and stations were passed.

At Saltillo, where the party stopped for the night, there is agricultural wealth. The city is clean and prosperous. The statute of a native soldier hero dominates the plaza.

The smoke of the chimney of the American Smelting and Refining Company is the first sign of Monterey. This is a city of 100,000. All the larger cities have increased heavily in numbers during the last few years. It is safe to live so. The walls of the houses are thick and the windows barred with iron. The Americans have been received everywhere with great courtesy and apparent friendliness.

The Indian women, who walk barefooted in the streets of the cities, and their blanketed husbands stare in wonder.

TAKING CONVENTION CALMLY.

The convention, however, is not making much of a riffle in the busy life of the capital city. It is just a little something that the foreigners are doing.

The delegates were whisked down an avenue that looked something like a great boulevard to a hotel where they will remain while in the city. Short side trips will be made into the hills under escort. The big social affair of the convention, which is in charge of the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico City, will be the banquet at Chapultepec Cafe on Friday evening.

Trade questions were discussed today at the opening of the conference by Bruno Newman, the chairman. C. H. M. Y. Agramonte, a lawyer, discussed the value of trade marks. He is a noted figure at the capital. He is 80 years old, and is versed in international affairs. A large number of Mexican merchants have come to the conference.

Mexican credits were discussed in the afternoon and in the evening there were group discussions among the various trades.

Railroad Commission Authorizes Auto Line in North.

Sale of the Gentry Stages Given Confirmation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Permission to operate an automobile freight service between Sacramento and Vallejo was granted today by the State Railroad Commission to Leonard B. Brotsman of Vallejo. Brotsman's application was opposed by the Southern Pacific Railroad, which since January 1 has been operating a special freight service between Vallejo and Sacramento. The Southern Pacific service between these points was not so efficient as that proposed by Brotsman, the commission found, and a public necessity for the new line was declared to exist.

GENTRY LINES SOLD.

The Western Motor Transport Company was granted authority today by the commission to purchase the Gentry Auto Lines operating between Vallejo and Sacramento. The consideration is $20,000. The Western company is authorized to issue $153,000 of its common stock to finance the transaction and acquire additional equipment.

DENY FERRY RATE RISE.

The commission today denied an advance in rates to the Redwood-Vallejo Ferry Company and the Richmond and San Rafael Ferry and Transportation Company, declaring that it could not advance rates of any company doing a profitable business simply to aid such company in financing further capital expenditures.

Both companies asked authority to increase their rate, for carrying automobiles from 75 cents each to 94 cents.

PHONE RATE INCREASE.

The Tulare Home Telephone & Telegraph Company was granted authority today by the commission to add 25 cents a month to its charges for main line and four-party residence telephones and to charge 25 cents additional for desk telephones. It is estimated the new rates with an expected 10 per cent. increase in business will add $1900 a month to the company's revenue.

BILL FOR EXPERIMENT STATION TO AID FOREST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Congressman Osborne has introduced a bill in the House to provide for the establishment and maintenance of a forest experiment station in co-operation with the University of California. The measure would authorize an appropriation of $25,000 or so much as may be necessary to conduct silvicultural, dendrological experiments and investigations.

The purpose of the bill is to assist in the protection and handling of brush or chapparral growths on watersheds, important to the supply of water for irrigation and other purposes. The experiments would be conducted in the areas within the State in particular need of such protection.

The California Chapter of Sons of the American Revolution sponsored another bill introduced by Congressman Osborne for the purpose of appropriating $2,000,000 for an archives building here. Bills of a similar nature have been presented from time to time by various organizations. The Californians believe that the historic documents and other records should be protected.

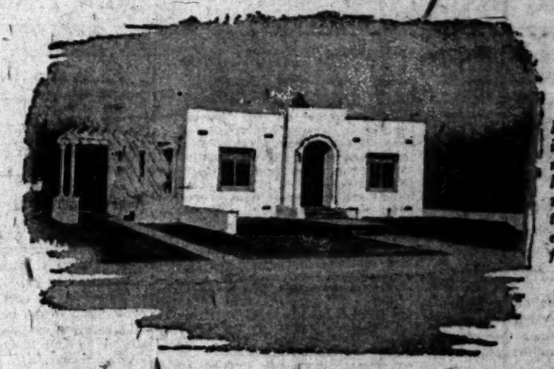
BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION



Because of the instant demand, the new Model Home will be open to the public every day from now on.

There are several homes of this type in Walnut Park—and others now under construction. This new type of construction bids fair to revolutionize home building in Southern California. It is the ideal type for the Southern California climate. We have homes of this type for as little as $7250—which is, in our opinion, 25 per cent. less than you would have to pay for brick or tile.

"Modernized Adobe"

Our civilization travels in circles. "History repeats itself." Many of our most advanced ideas are only repetitions of ideas that were in use hundreds or thousands of years ago. The modernized adobe is an exemplification of this.

Today we have returned to the type of construction used in the old Spanish days in Southern California—the type best suited to our climatic conditions. The walls of the adobe house are thick and are constructed to withstand heat and cold. Adobe homes are cooler in summer and warmer in winter. Faced with cement, these walls last indefinitely, with practically no upkeep cost.

There are also many frame homes of charmingly new design and rich interior finishings, now under construction in Walnut Park. Our representatives will be glad to show you through any homeplace on the tract or to quote price on any of our large tree-covered homesites. These homesites may be had for as little as $300—also acres and quarter acres—payable on the easiest terms. Homes on small monthly payments like rent. City conveniences without city taxes.

TEAPOT TEMPEST OVER SHIPS SALE

Senate Seethes as Ashurst Makes Sensational Charge.

Payne Calms the Storm, Ignoring Hearst Shrieks.

Senators will Get Chance to Review Transactions.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Congress went on the rampage today over the Shipping Board's proposed sale of thirty former German passenger ships for approximately $25,000,000.

Declaring that the vessels have a present value of $300,000,000, Senator Ashurst of Arizona, Democrat, introduced a resolution to prevent the sale, which is scheduled to take place Monday. Hours of spirited debate ensued, in which Republicans and Democrats joined in calling upon the administration to hold onto the ships.

While the debate was raging in the Senate, attorneys for William R. Hearst went into the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia and applied for an injunction to stop the sale. Justice McCoy issued notice that the Shipping Board must show cause next Monday morning why the injunction should not be issued.

The excitement was allayed somewhat when John Barton Payne, chairman of the Shipping Board, went before the Senate Commerce Committee and promised not to approve the transfer of the ships to private hands until the Senate has had an opportunity to review the sale.

As to Mr. Hearst's court action Judge Payne said:

"My recommendation will be that we proceed with the auction and tentatively receive the highest bids possible, and then defer action as to their acceptance until the matter is disposed of by the court."

PROHIBITION ELEMENT.

Prohibition figures largely in the controversy over the sale of the ships. Judge Payne insisted that because of prohibition the Shipping Board could not operate passenger vessels except at a loss. People having ocean voyages to make would avoid travel on "dry" vessels under the American flag, and would ride on "wet" ships under foreign flags. He cited the instance of the Mocona, a passenger vessel operated by the Shipping Board. It was ready to sail for South American ports when announcement was made that it would sail "dry," and immediately half the sailings were cancelled. Senator Jones of Washington, chairman of the Commerce Committee, did not believe the test was decisive, and asserted the belief that the American people would rather travel on a "dry" ship.

Among the thirty ships to be sold is the Leviathan, formerly the Vaterland, of 54,000 tons. It cost originally about $10,000,000. Homer S. Ferguson, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, estimated it would cost $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 to duplicate it today. The highest bid on this vessel recently was $4,000,000, but Judge Payne stated that it would cost about $12,000,000 to recondition it.

Judge Payne told the Commerce Committee it was his opinion that the Shipping Board ought to sell both passenger and cargo ships as fast as the country is able to take them at reasonable prices. He declared against government operation as a permanent policy. He added that the government ought to be willing to sell vessels to private interests a little cheaper than the cost of building them.

Judge Payne probably will be summoned before the Commerce Committee again Tuesday to give the details of the bids received at the auction Monday, if it takes place.

BUSINESS-LIKE AIR TO LEAGUE COUNCIL.

BALFOUR SAYS SESSIONS AUGUR WELL FOR FUTURE OF DELIBERATIONS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Arthur J. Balfour, who presided at today's meeting of the Council of the League of Nations, said he anticipated the League's future "with the utmost confidence if the experiences of the last few days are any indication of what it will do."

"If the nations of the world can all assemble and discuss questions in the future in the same businesslike, friendly and conciliatory spirit marking these proceedings," Mr. Balfour declared, "I cannot doubt that the service which the League is capable of rendering mankind is almost incalculable."

Count de Lion of Spain presented proposals for formation of a permanent organization to deal with League duties pertaining to the questions of transit, ports, waterways and railways. He suggested that to this body be submitted drafts of general and international conventions on these matters.

Dr. Gastoa de Cunha, representing Brazil, announced the Council's decision to institute the League's health committee to constitute a conference of international experts for preparation for proposals for a permanent body to advise the Council on health questions.

DEMOCRATS TRY NEW PACT PLAN.

Ask Republican Support of Revises on Article Ten.

Offer Taft Reservation and Bipartisan Scheme.

Forty Members of Minority Back up Proposition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Two modified drafts of the Article X reservation to the peace treaty were laid before Republican Senators today by Senator Hitchcock, the Democratic leader, with a promise that about forty Democrats would support which ever of the proposals the Republicans found preferable.

Both of the propositions, however, were rejected by Republican leaders during the disrupted bipartisan compromise negotiations and it was indicated tonight that there was little hope that either would be accepted now. The Republicans withheld a formal reply, however, until tomorrow.

One of the revisions offered was that worked out, but not finally agreed to, by the bipartisan conference and which President Wilson characterized later as "very unfortunate" in form. The other was the draft formulated by former President Taft and rejected by Senator Lodge, Republican leader.

In approaching the Republicans today, Senatdr Hitchcock put his proposition in writing with the signatures of twenty-eight Democratic Senators appended. At least a dozen more, he predicted, would give their support to the move if opportunity offered.

THE PROPOSAL.

The proposal as presented first to Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a leader of the mild reservation Republicans, and then to Senator Lodge, said:

"The undersigned Democratic Senators, as a means of securing ratification of the treaty, will support as a reservation on Article X, either of the following reservations, the first one being the reservation as framed in the bipartisan conferences recently held, and the second one being the last proposed reservation by former President Taft."

"Bipartisan conference reservation:

"The United States assumes no obligation to employ its military or naval forces or the economic boycott to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country under the provisions of Article X, or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States under any other article of the treaty for the purpose, unless in any particular case the Congress, which, under the Constitution, has the sole power to declare war, shall, by act or joint resolution so provide. Nothing herein shall be deemed to impair the obligation in Article XVI, concerning the economic boycott.

THE TAFT RESERVATION.

"Mr. Taft's suggested reservation: 'The United States declines to assume any legal or binding obligation to preserve the territorial integrity of political independence of any other country under the provisions of Article X, or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States under any article of the treaty for any purpose; but the Congress, which under the Constitution, has the sole power to declare war, will consider and decide what moral obligation, if any, under the circumstances of any particular case, when it arises, should move the United States in the interest of world peace and justice to take action therein, and will provide accordingly.'"

"Whichever of the above resolutions is preferred by Republican supporters of the treaty will, as a compromise, be acceptable to us."

THE ONLY MOVE.

Senator Hitchcock's move was the only surface development in the treaty fight today.

Press dispatches saying Canada had asked Great Britain not to accept the Republican reservation on voting power, caused some comment, but there was no evidence that the development would stir Senators on the majority side to modify the reservation. The Democrats declared it would help their fight for a modification, however, while the irreconcilable opponents of ratification asserted it would operate in the end to make the treaty's acceptance more doubtful.

NO WAGE RISE FOR TRAINMEN.

our union, as well as the others." Although Mr. Lee declined to discuss his next move, it was understood he would not break from the other organizations. It was indicated also that he would permit the wage agreement, notice of abrogation of which was given for February 23, to remain in effect until termination of Federal control.

UNIONS ARE CHAGRINED.

The general attitude of the union officials, after being made acquainted with the President's statement in a conference on the south lawn of the White House, plainly was one of disappointment. Some of them were openly dissatisfied, but the more conservative leaders urged that they bide their time in the hope of success along other lines.

Whether this attitude was proof that the President had denied flatly the requests for increases, or was an indication he had submitted an unsatisfactory counter-proposal, was the subject of difference of opinion among union leaders not acquainted with the President's reply. Many of them had believed, it was stated, that a compromise would be offered by the President, but there was a growing belief that the White House decision had been strictly in accord with the recommendations submitted by Mr. Hines.

It was understood Mr. Hines had told the President the railroad earnings were insufficient to take care of a new pay rise.

The Director-General was said to have informed Mr. Wilson that the Railroad Administration had adopted a policy last fall which ended the "war cycle" of increasing the pay of its men, and that any further revision in the wage agreements could be made only if more revenue was provided. A review of the wage hearings and a statement of the railroads' fiscal outlook were made a part of the Director-General's communication to the White House.

Many of the union officials were preparing to leave Washington tomorrow.

SAYS COTTON IMPORT CURTAILING A BLUFF.

EDITOR OF MANUFACTURERS' RECORD DENOUNCES BEAR MOVEMENT TO GET SALES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13.—Richard H. Edmunds, editor of Manufacturers' Record, wires from Dayton in regard to the report that England would stop buying cotton as follows:

"No cotton grower should for a moment be frightened by the bluff that importations of cotton will be curtailed by Great Britain on account of low exchange. That is the boldest piece of bluff which the cotton bears have ever tried to palm off upon the South.

"England's very industrial life would collapse if it could not get cotton from America. It would buy cotton if it had to pay 50 to 75 per cent, more than the price which it is now paying and its mills would still make a large profit because of the tremendous sales which they made ahead on a basis of profit justifying a very much higher price for the raw cotton. If cotton were 60 cents a pound English mills would not for a moment curtail their output. They would balk and halt and bluff and very naturally so, because the game of the buyer always has been the cry 'Naughty, naughty sale the buyer.' Solomon was wise enough to know the bluff game played by the buyer and what he said on that subject admirably fits the cotton buying interests today.

"If English mills were running at a loss or even at a small margin of profit there might be some foundation for the thought that high-priced cotton was a hardship on them. But English mills, as well as American mills, are abundantly able to pay far more than they are now paying for the raw material and still make a profit as large as their conscience ought to permit them to make. They are not to blame for these large profits. The world is demanding their output so that their products are being sold much faster than they can turn them out. All the world is short of cotton goods. Moreover the doubling of the price of silver has enormously increased the buying power of the 800,000,000 people in the Orient, who are heavy consumers of cotton goods. England's exports of cotton goods are mounting by the millions every month.

"Under these circumstances the cotton grower who is in a position to hold his cotton should not for a moment be disturbed by the temporary depression in exchange and the effort to break down cotton prices."

Appeals Court Reverses Verdict in Favor of Purchaser.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—The Third District Court of Appeals today reversed the judgment awarded the plaintiffs in the suit of C. G. Hyman and Winnie Hyman against the Harbor View Land Company, tried in a Los Angeles court.

The suit was brought to recover moneys paid by the plaintiffs on a contract for the purchase of a home near San Pedro and the lower court gave judgment in the sum of $401.25 to the plaintiffs.

In reversing the lower court the District Court held that the asserted fraud was not a legal excuse for the nonpayment of the installments so long as the plaintiffs held possession of the property, and that such asserted fraud being the only excuse suggested for the nonpayment of installments, it follows that when the defendant declared the contract ended, the plaintiffs were in default without legal excuse, and were not entitled to recover.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR GABY HELD IN PARIS.

FAMOUS PEARLS LEFT TO HER MOTHER AND SISTER; ALL WERE REMEMBERED.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Feb. 13.—Funeral services for Gaby Deslys, whose real name was Madeline Caire, were held today at her luxurious apartment, near the Bois de Boulogne. The body will be sent to Marseilles for interment in the family plot at the cemetery.

Mme. Caire, Gaby's mother, is seriously ill following her daughter's death, as she had been caring for Gaby night and day since her arrival at her bedside months ago.

Gaby left her valuable collection of jewels, including her famous pearls, to her mother and sister, but left isolated jewels to various friends. Harry Pilcer will receive a handsome set of diamonds. Various mannequins who tried out the wonderful toilettes in which Gaby astonished the theater-goers all were remembered for small legacies.

Gaby weighed seventy pounds when she died, having been in bed nearly three months. She caught cold returning from America in November, but instead of keeping indoors she insisted on attending Harry Pilcer's dance hall wearing a low-cut backless gown and stockingless, as usual. She caught the grippe, which developed into pneumonia. A few days later she had to be moved to a hospital.

Mr. Pilcer will return to Marseilles with the body.

Gaby's father, who was angry at his daughter for her stage career, and who never saw her perform, attended the funeral, having wired forgiveness just before she died.

"BILL" WILSON MAY ENTER ROWING TRIALS.

CRACK NORTHERN OARSMAN RECOMMENDED FOR THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Following the annual election of officers here last night, officials of the Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen today took up arrangements for entering William (Bill) Wilson, Coast singles champion, in the trials for the Olympic games.

William Unmack, San Francisco sports writer, said he had advised the Olympic games committee at New York that Wilson was "the greatest piece of rowing machinery ever produced on the Pacific Coast." Wilson is a member of the South End Rowing Club of San Francisco. The Olympic trials will be held in the East.

Vernon Showell was elected president of the association last night; Unmack was elected vice-president; J. J. Cronin, secretary, and R. Steele, treasurer.

Preliminary plans were taken up at the meeting for the Coast championship events to be held at San Diego, Cal., July 4. The association does not include the universities and colleges in its membership, competition being limited to clubs.

STANFORD TO MEET U. OF C. AT SOCCER.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 13.—Two championships will either be won or lost by Stanford teams on Saturday, when Stanford meets the University of California in Rugby and soccer on the local turf. The crisis of the soccer race for the Lathrop trophy, which is given to the team winning it for three years, has come, for each team has won it twice. The winner of the Stanford-California game Saturday will thus automatically come into possession of it.

The other championship that will be settled will be that of the California Rugby Union. Stanford and California are tied for the top position in this league and Saturday's game will come in the nature of a play-off.

MAHONEY OUTBOXES HAMMER AT DOYLE'S.

NIFTY FIGHTER SECONDED BY JACK DEMPSEY—GRANT-JORDAN DRAW.

Eddie Mahoney was too clever for Ever Hammer in the main bout at Jack Doyle's pavilion last night, outboxing him in every one of the four rounds. Jack Dempsey was in Mahoney's corner. In the semi-windup Bob Grant and Cliff Jordan fought to a draw.

The other results were as follows: Louis Garcia won over Lang Finn, Frankie Dolan trimmed Jimmy Pappas; Gene Watson defeated Lee Patterson, Charley Moy beat Young Papke, and Tommy Chapelle won over Walter Mulholland.

As a fitting tribute to the memory of Charley Murray's father, who died here several days ago, the lights were turned out and the bell slowly tapped ten times.

OXY TO PLAY TONIGHT.

The Occidental basketball team will journey to Redlands to tackle the Redlands five tonight. Because of their defeat of Pomona this week the Tigers believe they have a chance to tip the league leading Bulldogs.

CUETO FOR "SUDS."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 13.—Manuel Cueto has been purchased from Cincinnati by the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League, it was announced here today.

BOYER LOWERS TRACK RECORD.

"Daredevil" Joe Circles the Course in 40 4-5 Seconds.

Many Drivers on Los Angeles Speedway Today.

European Dark Horse Enters Big Auto Classic.

Only the four pilots of the Frontenacs braved the jinx of Friday, the 13th, for practice yesterday afternoon on the Los Angeles Speedway at Beverly Hills. The jinx was evidently taking a day off, however, for no mishaps resulted, and Joe Boyer pulled the track record down another notch by making the circuit in 40 4-5 seconds, or an average of 110.29 miles an hour. Ken Goodson likewise showed some real speed with a mark of 41 flat.

With the knowledge that the elimination trials to be held early next week will result in barring the three slowest cars of the twenty-one which are now entered, the pilots are bending every effort to put the last ounce of speed into their cars. This accounted for the few cars to show for practice yesterday, as motor adjustments, and, in some cases, gear changes to meet the terrific speed of which the track is capable, have been found advisable.

BE OUT TODAY.

Today, however, will probably see a large field of drivers out for practice. Tommy Milton yesterday stated that he would be out today with his Duesenberg. Milton and Murphy both drive 300-cubic-inch cars, as the small Duesenburg was not shipped to the Coast. Milton stated yesterday that, owing to thahouts on the railroad in Florida, neither of his cars ever reached Daytona for the beach trials he intended to make there. There will be no practice held on the track Sunday.

It is very possible that the last-minute entries would have included the names of Louis and Gaston Chevrolet, save for the serious illness of both these famous drivers. Gaston is reported very low with pneumonia, and Frank Lowry, in the name of the drivers and the Speedway Association, wired regret at the news of their illness.

ONE DARK HORSE.

The last-minute entries included one dark horse, if it is permissible to apply such a term to a driver named White. He is a foreign pilot, and entirely unknown here, though he has a long record of participations in the European classics. Incidentally, Los Angeles fans will at last see a Delage in action, as Bennett Hill, a driver with a considerable eastern speedway reputation, will pilot this second entry of Whitcomb.

Selection of Charles P. Root, for many years prominently connected with the automobile trade of Chicago, as referee of the great race, was announced yesterday by Manager A. M. Young.

HOLLY BASKETERS PUT IT ON MANUAL.

The Hollywood High School basketball team slaughtered its bitter rivals from Manual High by a score of 38 to 14 on the Hollywood court yesterday afternoon.

The Artisans failed to score a single field goal in the first half, the count at the end of the period standing 19 to 1 in Hollywood's favor. The Manual boys did better in the second frame, and managed to chalk up 13 points while the Foothillers were making another 19.

Troyer and White, the Hollywood High forwards, tied for individual honors with 13 points apiece. The game was thrilling and fast from start to finish.

The Foothillers' victory brings them into a tie for third with Los Angeles High School, Long Beach and Polytechnic are tied for first. The line-up follows:

Hollywood.		Manual.
Troyer (13)	forward	F. Lovell (6)
White (13)	forward	Lovell (6)
Douglas (6)	center	Hamilton (6)
Nathan (6)	guard	Hall (6)
Worden (6)	guard	Scott (6)

REDLANDS BASKETERS WIN EIGHT STRAIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

REDLANDS, Feb. 13.—Eight straight wins is the record of the basketball teams of the University of Redlands, the eighth being the defeat of Throop last night by a score of 31 to 30. Redlands played without Dick Lackey, the captain of the local team, who is in the hospital with injuries he received in the game with Whittier.

Ogden, who has been playing standing guard on the team, was switched over to running guard, and Trippiet was put in his place. Tomorrow night Redlands will play Occidental here and the locals hope to win the game. The hardest game of the season is considered to be the one with S.B.U.C. at Los Angeles on Thursday night.

SPRINTER KILBY IS INJURED IN PRACTICE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

REDLANDS, Feb. 13.—Track fans over the south will learn with regret that Kilby, the crack quarter-miler of the University of Redlands and Coast title holder, hurt himself while jogging around the track last night. It is not known whether he pulled loose a tendon or a small muscle in his right leg, but he can scarcely walk. Coach Cunningham is greatly worried for he says that if it is a tendon it may be weeks before it heals.

WILDE AND RUSSELL MEET FEBRUARY 22.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JERSEY CITY (N. J.) Feb. 13.—The eight-round bout between Jimmy Wilde, the English flyweight champion, and Mickey Russell, a local bantamweight, which was to have taken place at the Fourth Regiment Armory here next Wednesday, has been postponed until the following night.

YALE SWIMMERS BREAK RECORDS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW HAVEN (Conn.) Feb. 13—Yale's swimmers broke the intercollegiate record for the 200-yard relay race in a meet with the college of the city of New York today. Time was 1:40 4-5, against the intercollegiate mark of 1:41. The blue quartette was made up of Robert F. Solley of New York; John M. Hincks of Bridgeport; Lorrin P. Thurston of Honolulu, and Edwin Binney of Sound Beach, Conn.

TIGERS VICTORS IN TRACK FIELD MEET.

SMOTHER THE BEAR CUBS AT PATTERSON GROUNDS. MARTIN STARS.

Occidental smothered the University of California (southern branch) track team under a 97-34 score at Patterson Field yesterday afternoon. It was the first conference meet of the year for both teams.

Martin of Occidental, with firsts in the 440, 880 and pole vault, was easily the star of the day. His marks, while not phenomenal, were creditable early-season performances.

The Bear Cubs took three firsts—the furlong, 220-yard low hurdles and the shot put. They picked up the remainder of their points by slipping in here and there for a second or third.

Sloane, the Tiger distance runner, had no difficulty in waltzing through his specialities for 10 points. The mile he turned in 4m. 57 2-5s., and the two-mile, in 11m. 10s.

The complete results follow:

TRACK EVENTS.

Mile run—Sloane (O.) first, Anderson (O.) second, Davidson (O.) third. Time, 4m. 57 2-5s.
100-yard dash—Cary (O.) first, Stoddard (O) second, Westerfield (O.) third. Time, 10 2-5s.
120-yard high hurdles—Walker (O.) first, Alder (O.) second, Haralson (C.) third. Time, 17 2-5s.
440-yard dash—Martin (O.) first, Knith (O.) second, Bullock (O.) third. Time, 52s.
Two-mile run—Sloane (O.) first, Beckwith (O.) second, Rosmer (O.) third. Time, 11m. 10s.
880-yard dash—Martin (O.) first, Cundit (O.) second; Mullin (O.) third. Time, 2m. 10 2-5s.
220-yard low hurdles—Haralson (C.) first, Walker (O.) second, Miller (O.) third. Time, 26s.
220-yard dash—Stoddart (C.) first, Westerfield (O.) second, Roger (O.) third. Time, 25 2-5s.
Relay—Awarded to S.B.U.C. when Sherwood of Occidental failed to touch Cary at the end of the final lap. Occidental won the race, but was disqualified.

FIELD EVENTS.

CAPTAIN PELOUZE TO GET BACK IN GAME.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 13.—Capt. Pelouze, of the Stanford basketball team, will probably get back into the game next Saturday evening, when the Cardinal and University of California quintets meet for the second game of the annual intercollegiate series. Pelouze has been out of the competition for several weeks on account of a leg injury, but even the loss of this star player has not hindered the Stanford players from defeating Washington State and the University of California in the past two weeks.

Leo Starr won the defeated Sears in the first flight. The trophy, a handsome cup, offered by J. J. Canavan, went to Fahy.

OPERATE SAME AS LAST YEAR.

Baseball Magnates Come to Satisfactory Agreement.

Minor Leagues to be Represented in All Disputes.

Perfect Harmony has been Restored on All Sides.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Major and minor league baseball magnates failed to draw up any new agreement at their joint session today at the Congress, but they came to an understanding verbally in a way that seemed satisfactory to all concerned. They will operate under a "gentlemen's agreement" this year just as last, with the exception that a board of arbitration was created which will give the minors representation in all disputes to be settled.

The board will consist of two men, one representing the majors and one the minors. The new chairman of the National Commission, not yet elected, will represent the majors. The minors will appoint a man within a week or so. These two will decide all cases involving major and minor league clubs, and in case they cannot agree, they will select a neutral man to decide that particular case.

COMMITTEE OF EIGHT.

That there still is some possibility of a new written agreement being drawn up and adopted was made known. The minor league committee of eight men is empowered to act on such a thing. President Heydler of the National League and President Johnson of the American League, both of whom attended the session, said they would want to take the matter up with the major league club owners. If the club owners favor a new agreement it might be put into operation before the session begins, but as some of the magnates prefer to take no such action while a decision in court is pending regarding the Baltimore Federal League suit against organized baseball it is likely the "gentleman's agreement" will continue through another season.

This will mean that there will be no drafting of ball players and no optional agreements between major league and minor league clubs. The system worked quite satisfactorily last season, except in a few cases where minor league players of merit failed to advance because their owners wouldn't sell them and the big fellows could not draft them.

BRINGS TO CLOSE.

The joint session of today practically brought to a close the biggest baseball meeting of all time which has been in operation since Sunday. As yet however, no chairman has been elected for the national committee to succeed Garry Herrmann. Heydler and Johnson, the other two members of the commission, were in secret session late in the evening and will meet again today. It is possible the election will take place tomorrow, but when asked tonight, Heydler stated he rather thought it would come a little later.

The list of candidates was cut down to one less when Judge Landis asked that his name be removed. President Heydler of the National League said the judge had called him up and requested that a blue pencil be run through his name on the list. Landis declared he never had been a candidate, that no one connected with baseball had even talked to him about it, and that the use of his name was embarrassing to him.

ALL DELIGHTED.

Nearly all of the magnates had departed for their homes tonight and all were delighted with the results of the big meeting. A number of the managers were disappointed because they had been unable to make trades, but it is thought that a few deals were framed and will be announced later.

The minor leaguers were well satisfied because they had procured representation on the board to pass on cases between the majors and minors. The majors were delighted because the internal row in the American League had been settled and all suits had been withdrawn from the courts.

INGLEWOOD WINS.

In one of the toughest and closest games of the season, Compton went down to defeat before the Inglewood basket-tossers by a score of 21 to 17 yesterday. At the end of the play the score was a tie, forcing it to run an extra five minutes, Inglewood getting two baskets.

SKATER McLEAN LOSES ARGUMENT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CHRISTIANIA, Feb. 13.—Films taken of the 10,000 meter ice skating race Sunday between Oscar Mathiesen of Christiania and Robert McLean of Chicago show that the flagman at the curve where McLean took the inner instead of the outer track gave the American skater the proper signal. It is therefore held here that McLean's claim that an incorrect signal given by an official at the curve was the cause of his mistake in taking the wrong course is untenable.

KOLCHAK SHOT; VLADIVOSTOK JOY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

VLADIVOSTOK, Feb. 11.—Admiral Kolchak was executed by Bolsheviki at Irkutsk, February 7, after being court-martialed and sentenced to death on the previous day, according to official information received by the local Czech staff here. Premier Pepellayov of the old Kolchak Cabinet also was executed.

VLADIVOSTOK, Feb. 13.—Parades, street meetings and speechmaking marked the second day today of the city's complete liberation from Kolchak authority. The demonstration thus far has been orderly, the Allied police force having little to do. Red flags fly on every government building, many business houses and homes, and thousands on the streets wear red ribbons.

There is a pronounced pro-American feeling evident. In front of the American headquarters the revolutionary leaders mounted steps of buildings across the street, making speeches calling the Americans real friends, who at a critical time saved this present movement. The people are insisting upon an Allied policy of no interference internationally in political affairs.

The general staff of the new government at Nikolsk has telegraphed to the American commander, Maj.-Gen. Graves, expressing its appreciation for efforts toward guaranteeing an Allied policy of non-interference during occupation of the city, also in aiding in a peaceful settlement of the local situation. Gen. Graves replied:

"It has always been and always will be the policy of America to help the Russian people, regardless of party or creed."

New government leaders today addressed the first general public meeting of Vladivostok inhabitants. The officials laid stress upon the necessity of law and order, and urged that all work harder to prove there is no need for foreign military intervention here.

A severe blizzard is crimping revolutionary demonstrations. All government organizations are acclaiming their allegiance to the Zematvo regime. L. Kradovetski, first War Minister under Kolchak, also one of three leaders who started the revolution with Rudolph Gaida last November, has been appointed military commander of Vladivostok. His first orders are that all private establishments immediately resume work.

Attempts at rioting or unauthorized searches or arrests are to be suppressed immediately. Kradovetski, addressing the military heads of his district, declared the present coup marks the downfall of dictatorship.

The central bureau of the trade unions here has passed a resolution supporting the government.

Nearly all Russian officers arrested Saturday, including high officers of Rozanov's staff, have been released. Those who were unwilling to recognize the new regime were repatriated and will go to Japan or China. Rozanov remains a refugee at Japanese headquarters.

Officers of the new government said some former Kolchak officers escaping to Japan had taken quantities of government gold with them.

CO-OPERATE WITH AMERICANS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

VLADIVOSTOK, Feb. 7.—Revolutionists controlling Vladivostok are co-operating with American and Czech officers in the evacuation of the Allied troops.

Practically all government employees and officials have returned to their posts and the attention of the new government is being given to reorganization of their departments and also to aiding the Americans and Czechs to complete their evacuation.

Communistic and anarchistic proclamations continue to be scattered in the streets occasionally, but their effect has not been evident.

Railways are clear to China, with transportation unhindered, and American engineers are in complete control, working harmoniously with revolutionist authorities in the evacuation of American and Czech troops. Two troop trains of the Twenty-seventh Infantry from the trans-Baikal district have already reached here and others are proceeding. Col. Morrow and his staff left Verkne-Udinsk for Vladivostok.

Revolutionists report their expedition is rapidly advancing toward Habarovsk, where, they say, Gen. Kalmikoff's forces are expected to be overthrown any day.

Latest reports from Chita indicate that Gen. Semenoff continues in authority there, having telegraphed here for details of the revolution last Saturday.

Consul-General Harris and his staff, also the last of the American Red Cross women from the interior, have arrived at Vladivostok.

NEW MEXICO DEVELOPS SUFFRAGE OPPOSITION.

THOSE AGAINST MEASUURE, IN TWO WEEKS, SWING LEGISLATURE INTO LINE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Strong opposition to the ratification of the suffrage amendment has developed in New Mexico, according to Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's party, and is threatening the enfranchisement of women for the fall election.

"Our poll of the New Mexico Legislature," Miss Paul says, "shows a majority in both houses and a month ago the State seemed very hopeful. In the last two weeks, however, the opponents of the measure have been active."

With the three victories this week, New Jersey, Idaho and Arizona, thirty-one States have been secured to suffrage and five more are needed to win. The States in which suffragists believe their best chances lie are Washington and Oklahoma, full suffrage States; West Virginia, Delaware, Vermont and Connecticut, where the legislators are known to be friendly, but where the Governors so far have refused to call special sessions.

TIDE IS TURNING TOWARD HOOVER

Middle Western States in Strong Undercurrent.

Must State Party to Get on Minnesota Ballot.

Washington State Clubs Insist on Food Wizard.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 13.—"There's a strong tide turning to Hoover for President all through Iowa," said Gardner Cowles, publisher of the Des Moines Register, one of the great independent Republican papers of the country. Mr. Cowles is in New Orleans on a four-days' visit.

"We've not come out for Hoover as yet in the Register," said Mr. Cowles, "but our feeling is that it is about time for something different from the customary political line-up on a Presidential election. The problems of reconstruction that America must face after the war call for something more than the usual playing of party politics in this campaign.

"The treaty situation, too, demands attention. Up in Des Moines we're feeling very happy at the selection of Meredith to the Cabinet as Secretary of Agriculture. He's one of the big men of America. Wilson has strengthened himself in Iowa immensely by that selection. By the way, Hoover, too, is an Iowan, though not so very many people could tell you off-hand where he came from."

MINNESOTANS WANT HIM.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 13.—The name of Herbert Hoover will go on the Presidential ballot to be used in the Republican caucuses March 15 in Minnesota, if he indicates definitely that he is a Republican.

That is the attitude taken by Gustaf Lindquist, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee. Formal request that Hoover's name go on the ballot has been made by members of the Hoover club of Minnesota. Mr. Lindquist said today that he had not yet received the formal request, but that he had received a number of letters from women on the same subject.

"In order that Hoover's name go on the ballot to be prepared by the State Central Committee he must subscribe to the Republican principles as set forth in the call," said Mr. Lindquist. "We do not know that Mr. Hoover is a Republican. Further, he says he is not a candidate. Under these conditions we cannot put his name on the ballot. I shall so notify members of the Hoover Club when I receive their request."

TACOMA CLUB FOR HIM.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—In reporting the formation of the first Hoover club in Washington State, known as the Pierce County Hoover Club of Tacoma, Gwin Hicks, chairman of the executive committee, writes that "the idea of the club came from the New York World, whose message has electrified the whole nation."

The club has adopted a constitution and drafted a set of principles, or platform, on which to go before the people, and Mr. Hicks forwards copies of them. He says the platform of the nominating party must be laid on broad humanitarian lines and should "scourge the money lenders from the temple."

"We take satisfaction in the discovery without previous discussion of a unity of opinion, spontaneous, as it were, that seems to be firing the minds of thinking men of the necessity of putting in the White House a man of practical affairs. Out of the wreck and welter of the world's war stands the figure of a man, who, through all the swirl of hate, academic idealism and partisan greed maintained his human sympathy.

"Hoover combines the splendid idealism of Wilson with the resolute courage of Roosevelt, without partisan bias or selfish aim."

PHELAN FOR HOOVER.

A number of Democrats in New York who are unusually well informed on political affairs believe that the fact that the Democratic convention is to be held in San Francisco, not only is favorable to the nomination of Hoover, but was originally planned with that possibility in view.

Mr. Hoover and Senator Phelan are said to be close personal friends, and both are members of the famous Bohemian Club of San Francisco.

The California delegation to the San Francisco convention will probably be a unit for the nomination of Hoover, it is said, and the influence of Senator Phelan will be a powerful factor to this end.

FORM CLUB IN PALO ALTO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PALO ALTO, Feb. 13.—The organization of a Hoover Republican club "to give active and voluntary expression to the demand for Herbert C. Hoover for President of the United States and to obtain his nomination by the Republican party" was perfected here today by fellow-townsmen of the former Food Administrator. Men and women of the two leading political parties are represented in the membership of the club.

SUFFRAGE FIRE ON GOVERNORS.

Convention Demands Prompt Action of All States.

Delegates Want All Women to Vote for President.

Oklahoma Legislature Called for Ratification.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Governors of the various States that have not ratified the Federal suffrage amendment will receive telegrams demanding immediate consideration and prompt legislative action as a result of action decided upon today at the opening of the fifty-first annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

Delegates to the convention numbering more than 2000 are desirous that ratification be completed so that all women may participate in the Presidential election.

Demand on the various State Executives followed the receipt of a telegram from Gov. Robertson of Oklahoma, in which he announced that he had called a special session of the Oklahoma Legislature for February 23 to consider ratification of the amendment.

Particular attention was directed by the convention against Gov. Hart of Washington, the only equal suffrage State where no move has been made to call a special session. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the association, stated that Gov. Hart had promised last August to call a session and she was directed by the convention to send the following message to the Governor:

WANT WASHINGTON TO ACT.

"Washington is now the only enfranchised State which has taken no action toward ratification of the Federal Suffrage Amendment. Thirty-five ratifications are assured in the immediate future. The nation has been informed for many years that Washington approved woman suffrage. It therefore looks to you to call an immediate session of your Legislature and once more announce Washington's indorsement of woman suffrage by ratification of the Federal amendment.

The delegates demanded that the sharp telegram be dispatched to Gov. Hart as early in the morning as a telegram from the Washington League of Women Voters said "we were a pioneer suffrage State, the fifteenth State to be enfranchised. Therefore, we resent the disgraceful humiliation put upon us by the stubborn refusal of our Governor to listen to our united demand for a special session to ratify the suffrage amendment."

Announcement of the calling of a special session in Oklahoma was greeted with cheers. Officers of the association believe it will only be a few days before the necessary thirty-six States ratify the measure, as legislatures of thirty-one States have acted in favor of the suffrage amendment.

In addition to Oklahoma, the New Mexico Legislature will pass on the question February 23. West Virginia and Delaware are expected to take favorable action shortly. In the event that Washington is not the thirty-sixth State, the suffrage leaders are certain Vermont or Connecticut will take that honor.

The report of Mrs. F. J. Shuler, corresponding secretary and chairman of campaigns and surveys, contained a review of the suffrage ratification campaign. In addition to the Federal amendment, Mrs. Shuler named the following suffrage victories of the year:

Presidential suffrage gains in Missouri, Tennessee and Iowa; the grant of municipal suffrage in Orlando, Fla.; the extension of municipal suffrage to the women in the Democratic primaries in Atlanta; the upholding of the constitutionality of the Presidential and municipal suffrage laws in Nebraska, and the decision by the Attorney-General of Nebraska that women have the right to vote for delegates to the national political party conventions; the passage of a woman watchers bill in the Ohio Legislature, and the favorable decision of the Texas Supreme Court on the constitutionality of the State primary bill.

SOME GOVERNORS THANKED.

The Governors of all States where special sessions have been held will receive letters of appreciation from the convention.

Officers of the association declared a telegram received from President Wilson and read during the session would put a stop to efforts being made by women politicians to swing the convention delegates over to their candidates for the Presidency. The President congratulated the association for its great work and leadership.

Representatives of candidates for the Presidential nomination continued attempts to enlist the women voters in their ranks. The women's branch of the Republican National Committee gave a dinner to Republican women attending the convention and the Democratic women's committee arranged a similar dinner for the same hour in the same hotel. Daily teas for the delegates are being held by women members of the Lowden and Wood campaigns.

The executive council of the association at the night session recommended that the association dissolve, as the object of many years' endeavor, the securing of the vote for the women citizens of the country, is about to be attained.

Another recommendation, which was approved, was that the League of Women Voters, now a section of the suffrage association, be organized as a new and independent society. Another recommendation was that the present auxiliaries of the association retain their relationship to the board of directors to be elected at this convention, but change their names, objects and constitutions to conform to those of the National League of Women Voters and take up the plan of work to be adopted at the first congress of the league.

Additional recommendations, approved by the delegates, included a resolution that the League of Women Voters make political education for the new women voters, "but not excluding men," its first duty in 1920; that the nation-wide plan include normal schools in each State followed by schools in each county and that the league make an effort to have the study of citizenship required in the public schools of every State, and also in the colleges and universities.

A congress of the League of Woman Voters began yesterday, to continue through next Wednesday. Its initial meeting developed sharp differences of opinion among Republican and Democratic women, and political observers today were interestedly awaiting developments, which suffrage leaders themselves said would indicate whether women of widely divergent political opinions could establish and maintain a nonpartisan political organization.

"Oh, women, be glad today," Mrs. Catt said. "Let your voices ring out the gladness in your hearts. There will never come another day like this. Let the joy be unconfined and let it speak so clearly that its echo will be heard around the world and find its way into the soul of every woman of any and every race and nationality who is yearning for opportunity and liberty still denied her sex.

"Rejoice, applaud, be glad—you've won."

During the last year the suffrage association handled $99,124 and expended $88,218, according to the report of Mrs. Emma Winner Rogers of Connecticut, national treasurer. The amount expended excludes funds spent by State auxiliaries.

It was announced that the association collected $93,592 for overseas hospitals it founded. Of this, $61,171 was expended. The convention will decide on the disposal of the remainder. Since founding the hospitals in 1917, the association has raised $173,002 for their support.

Since 1915 the association had collected $433,989, the report showed.

DECLARES NEWSPAPERS BEST FOR ADVERTISING

SHREDDED WHEAT WILD SPEND $250,000 IN DAILIES, SAYS DE WEESE.

Daily newspapers offer the best advertising medium for a national sales campaign, according to Truman A. de Weese, director of sales and advertising for the Shredded Wheat Company of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Oakland. This statement was made in Los Angeles yesterday by Mr. De Weese in connection with his announcement of the plans of the Shredded Wheat Company to spend between $250,000 and $300,000 in advertising during the coming year, practically all of it in the daily press publications.

National advertisers have learned, Mr. De Weese said during a roundtable discussion at the meeting of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles at the Hotel Clark, that it takes a persistant and consistent advertising campaign to maintain sales and reap the cumulative benefits of advertising.

"Some time ago," the speaker pointed out, "A. and P. Pears, makers of Pears' soap, decided to discontinue their celebrated advertising because their products were sold up to capacity. The 'Good Morning' hiatus continued for six months. In that time, according to the published story, Pears lost 25 per cent. in sales, and it cost the concern $6,500,000 additional publicity to bring the volume of business back to where it was when the advertising was stopped."

"The Shredded Wheat Company," continued Mr. De Weese, "does not pursue such an injurious policy. Right now we are 300,000 cases behind on our deliveries; but notwithstanding, our advertising appropriation for this year is larger than ever."

URGES CITY TO SPEND MILLION FOR POWER.

SCATTERGOOD GIVES ESTIMATE FOR HYDRO-ELECTRIC GENERATORS.

Specifications have been prepared by Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood for the hydraulic and electrical machinery required for the complete installation of the city's proposed San Fernando power plant and for the installation of one out of two main generating units at the city's proposed Franklyn Canyon power plant. This information was given to the Board of Public Service Commissioners yesterday by Chief Engineer Scattergood, and he urged the advantage, from a business point of view, of the installation of these plants as speedily as possible. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

The probable cost, including freight, of the machinery and equipment for the San Fernando power plant, says Mr. Scattergood, is estimated at $150,000, and that for the Franklyn Canyon is placed at $60,000. The total cost of the San Fernando plant, at present prices of labor and equipment, is placed at $725,000, and the time required for completion about ten months from the date of letting contracts. The estimated cost of the partial installation at Franklyn Canyon, assuming the erection of a permanent building large enough for housing the additional unit when installed later, and including $30,000 for an additional transmission circuit from Franklyn Canyon to connect with the 33,000-volt lines in the city, is $200,000, and the time required for completion is placed at from nine to ten months.

SUSPEND VETERAN OFFICER AS ALLY OF BURGLARS.

Acting Police Detective Mann Accused of Receiving Own Brother's Loot; Says He Did it Unknowingly.

Charged with having received and concealed the loot of two burglars, one of them his own brother, Acting Detective William E. Mann, a veteran police officer, was late yesterday afternoon suspended from the police department by Chief of Police George K. Home and a grand jury investigation of the case ordered. Mann's suspension followed the submission of the charges against him to Deputy District Attorney Van Cott. The grand jury inquiry was requested by Chief Home.

The investigation which resulted in Mann being relieved of his police badge began on February 10, when Police Detectives Fitzgerald, Blue, Bean and Smith arrested Frank Mann, 32 years of age, ex-convict and brother of the police officer, and Harold B. Faulkrod, 25 years of age, an ex-convict. Following their arrest the two men confessed to a number of burglaries and then informed against Detective Mann.

According to the prisoners, bonds valued at $8500 and other loot taken from the residence of Mrs. Della McLean of 211 Trolleyway, Venice, on January 21, were given by Frank Mann to his brother. The bonds were returned by the police officer to his brother the day before the arrest, but a small suit case containing some valuable papers and other articles was recovered by the police in a private residence in Boyle Heights, where they had been placed by Detective Mann.

WHAT OFFICER SAYS.

In a complete statement in writing given to Chief Home by Officer Mann, the police in part admits the charges placed against him, but denies any guilty knowledge in connection with keeping the loot for his brother. William Mann, in his statement, declared that he became involved in the entire matter only through friendship for his brother, whom he believed to be "going straight" since his release from prison.

"The bonds were given to me," he wrote, "in an envelope by my brother. I did not know what he was giving me, but he stated that it was a package of private papers which he wanted me to keep for him. I never looked into the package, but put it in my trunk. A day before my brother was arrested I returned the envelope to him. The suit case was given me, with the same explanation, and I took it to the home of a friend of mine, where I left it. I never thought of the matter again until after the detectives arrested Frank and Faulkrod. Then I took a police officer with me to the residence and secured the case. I thought my brother was working and had no idea that the stuff he gave me was loot from a burglary job. If I had any suspicions of my brother I should have investigated the matter to the bottom, but I thought that he was attempting to make good."

The arrest of Frank Mann and Faulkrod on February 10, came following a long investigation by police detectives into a series of burglaries. Evidence pointing to Frank Mann, known by the police to be in the city, resulted in his arrest and later in the arrest of Faulkrod. For a time following his arrest Mann attempted to throw all the blame on Faulkrod and in his attempt to clear himself involved his brother.

BY HIS ACCUSERS.

Following Frank Mann's statements Faulkrod broke down and made a complete confession to Detectives Fitzgerald and Blue. He told of burglarizing the McLean home and also of entering an apartment-house at 916 West Eighth street, an apartment-house at 1322 Santee street, and one other job. In each case Faulkrod turned his loot over to Frank Mann for sale. According to both Faulkrod and the men William mann, the police officer, was only implicated in the one burglary.

Yesterday when interviewed by Deputy District Attorney Van Cott the two prisoners in part denied their first statements. They stated that the police officer had been given the loot, but did not know what he was handling. Their last statements agree with the story told by Officer Mann.

Late yesterday afternoon Faulkrod, when interviewed in the City Jail by a Times reporter, again seemed to be about to change his story. "I believe," declared the confessed burglar, "that they are framing on me. I seem to be the goat for everybody. If they push me too hard I am going to tell all I know and we will all go down together." Faulkrod declared himself a deserter from the army. According to his story he was sent to San Quentin from Los Angeles in 1916 for forgery. When he was discharged he went East and enlisted in the British army. When the United States entered the war he secured a transfer to the American forces and fought to the end of the war. He was twice wounded and after securing a discharge returned to the army for another enlistment. He deserted a short time later and came to this city. Then he met Frank Mann and says that after the two had burglarized several residences in this city, he agreed to turn over all his loot to Frank Mann to sell. Later he met William Mann, but did not know he was a police officer until following his arrest.

Frank Mann, according to police records, was first arrested in 1908 for burglary. He was again arrested on the same charge on April 21, 1910, and was discharged from San Quentin on February 13, 1918.

HIS RECORD.

Detective Mann is 30 years old, and lives at 1369 West Twenty-first street. He was appointed to the police department as patrolman on July 12, 1911. He was appointed acting detective and worked in plain clothes a number of years ago in several of the smaller police divisions. Several months ago he was transfered to central division and detailed to the "Bomb and Red Squad" under Acting Lieutenant of Detectives Frank Williams. His record is excellent.

NEW SKYSCRAPER TO HOLD STATE OFFICES.

TWELVE-STORY STRUCTURE IS SOON TO RISE AT SIXTH AND OLIVE STREETS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—The State Board of Control this afternoon announceed it had closed a deal to lease four or five floors in the twelve-story building to be erected in Los Angeles by Lee A. Phillips for the purpose of housing State offices located in that city. The deal was closed by wire.

According to Stanley P. Allen, secretary of the board, the State agreed to lease for five years 40,000 square feet of floor space in the building at 10 cents a square foot per month, or aproximately $4000.

There are more than thirty State offices in Los Angeles and at present they are housed in the Union League Building. The deal has been pending for several weeks.

Lee A. Phillips, president of the Central Business Properties, Inc. yesterday announced that he had arranged a lease with the State Board of Control for three upper floors of the oce building, now being erected at the southwest corner of Sixth and Olive streets, opposite the Pacific Mutual Life Building.

The top floor will be occupied by the State courts in especially arranged quarters, and the other two floors by various State departments, several of which are now in the Union League Building.

The new building will be a twelve-story reinforced concrete structure and will cost approximately $2,000,000. It will have a frontage on Sixth street of 201½ feet and 105 feet on Olive street. Ground is being excavated to provide a two-story underground garage for the accommodation of tenants of the building.

CONFIRM AGE OF "OLDEST" WOMAN.

HAS VETERAN AS VISITOR, WHOSE FATHER AND GRANDFATHER SHE HAD KNOWN.

"Mammy" Anna Prater, 115 years of age, the oldest person west of Chicago, entertained a visitor yesterday from her old home town, Darlington, S. C., which she left in 1334. Her visitor was J. B. Law, 68 years of age, a Carolina planter, whose father and grandfather she had known.

Mr. Law is an uncle of T. C. Law of Burbank. He came to Los Angeles on a visit two weeks ago and learned only a few days ago that the aged negress was living here. She was "discovered" by Paul F. Collins, a census enumerator, to whom she stated that she was 115 years old. Since nobody could be located here who knew "Mammy" Prater back in South Carolina, it could not be ascertained whether or not Mrs. Prater was actually as old as she stated. But when Mr. Law visited her yesterday at her little home at 2918 Pennsylvania avenue, all doubt as to her remarkable age was dissipated.

Though "Mammy" Prater did not remember Mr. Law, since he was born after she left Darlington, she remembered his father, Gen. E. M. Law, as a little boy. She also remembered Gen. Law's father and related incidents that occurred in the Law family almost a hundred years ago. Mr. Law left yesterday, shortly after his visit with the aged "mammy," for his South Carolina home.

BENEFIT STIRS UP MUSIC WAR.

Legion Asks Two Orchestras to Play; One Won't.

Charge that Symphony Bars Philharmonic Scouted.

Two Versions of New Turn in Feud of Melody Here.

When the returned soldiers and sailors of Los Angeles Post of the American Legion conceived the idea of giving a benefit musical entertainment at which the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra and the Philharmonic Orchestra would be the principal contributors, they started something.

The entertainment will be given at Clune's Auditorium next Saturday evening. The Symphony Orchestra will play. The Philharmonic Orchestra will not play.

There are two versions of why the Philharmonic Orchestra will not play, the unofficial explanation being that the Symphony Orchestra, having sole control of Clune's Auditorium next week, said the Philharmonic Orchestra could not play there on the same programme, and that ended the matter. The official explanation given to the men of the post by the Symphony Orchestra management was that to attempt to handle on the same stage two orchestras—the Symphony, with more than eighty members, and the Philharmonic, with more than ninety—would be a physical impossibility. Friends of the Philharmonic Orchestra say that the change of stage for the orchestras can be made in eight minutes, and, if desired, the Philharmonic would furnish the necessary stage hands to place the chairs for the players.

BEHYMER EXPLAINS.

When the service men planned their entertainment several weeks ago they went to L. E. Behymer, manager of the Philharmonic Orchestra, and asked if that organization would contribute its services.

"I said I had no doubt that the orchestra would be glad to play," said Mr. Behymer yesterday, "and when I consulted W. A. Clark, Jr., founder of the orchestra, and Walter Henry Rothwell, the conductor, both instantly and heartily agreed. Later, we learned from the men of the post who were arranging the entertainment that there was a hitch. I am in receipt now of a letter from Van M. Zimmerman, chairman of the performance committee of the post, in which he says that 'it is with the deepest regret that the post finds it impossible to accept the generous offer of the Philharmonic Orchestra' to play at the benefit.

"I believe the public is entitled to know that the Philharmonic Orchestra gladly offered to play and is willing to play for the American Legion benefit. I did not inquire, when the orchestra was invited, as to whether or not the Symphony Orchestra was to play on the same programme. As showing that we have no feeling against the Symphony Orchestra, I may say that Mr. Tandler, conductor of that orchestra, asked us for the loan of our celesta, which Mr. Clark had brought from Paris, and we gladly loaned Mr. Tandler the instrument for his next concert."

FROM MRS. HOYT.

J. A. Campbell, business manager of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, said that, while it is obvious that to have two large orchestras on the same programme would make the entertainment too long, he would prefer that Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt, president of the orchestra, would make any reply to the charge that the Symphony Orchestra refused to permit the Philharmonic Orchestra to play at the Legion benefit. Mrs. Hoyt said yesterday afternoon, at the California Club:

"I must refer you to the men of the post. The Symphony Orchestra was glad to give them the use of the hall and to play for their programme. We met their wishes in every way."

"I must refer you to the men of the post," said Mrs. Hoyt, "I am lunching now. You must excuse me."

POST IS SILENT.

The officers of the post said that officially they could say nothing except that they hope to raise $15,000 by the entertainment; that seats will be placed on sale next Monday morning; that boxes will be auctioned at the Alexandria next Tuesday afternoon by Harry Haldeman and a number of motion-picture stars; that efforts are being made to secure Mme. Schumann-Heink, Kosloff, the dancer, and other noted artists; and that perhaps something may yet make possible the original plan to have the city's two great orchestras appear at the same concert.

The money raised by the concert will be used to fit out the permanent clubrooms of Los Angeles Post, which are to be in the basement of the Washington Building. The committees of the post in charge of the entertainment are as follows:

Finance, Morgan Adams, chairman, H. O. Wheeler and Jess G. Foster; Tickets, Walter Brinkop, chairman, Marshall Zeno and H. O.

ORANGE SHOW OPENS IN A BLAZE OF GOLDEN GLORY.

Tenth Annual Exhibit of Southern California's Most Famous Product Surpasses Past in Size, Beauty.

Bigger and better than ever, the tenth National Orange Show opened at San Bernardino last night in a triumphal blaze of glory, a truly wonderful exposition of the Southland's harvest glory and a powerful rebuke to union labor, which called the show unfair and placarded Southern California with its literature in an effort to detract from its success.

The curtain was rung up last night at 8 o'clock, following a banquet of Orange Show officials and invited guests at the Chocolate Palace, Hon. J. B. Gill presiding. The speakers were H. B. Titcomb of the Pacific Electric; T. C. Peck of the Salt Lake Route; Dana C. King, representing the Fruit Growers' Exchange; F. W. Kellogg, Los Angeles newspaper man; Dr. H. J. Webber of the Riverside citrus experiment station; Frank Wheeler of Claremont; C. A. Fults, J. S. Joplin and Clinton E. Miller, all of this city. At 7:30 o'clock p.m. Urbita Springs Park, where the show is in progress, was illuminated by searchlights of 20,000 candle power, the variegated reflectors of which transformed the wooded scene into a scintillating fairyland of color.

John Stephen McGroarty, author of the "Mission Play," delivered the opening address from the bandstand in the main tent at 8 o'clock, following Miss Bessie Lyon's solo, "The Bluebird." Worked out in the bluebird motif, the decorations of the Orange Show provided Mr. McGroarty with an abundance of material for his poetic imagination to weave into a eulogy of the Southland and its fairest fruits and flowers. Gregory's Band gave a full concert following the grand opening.

BRILLIANT SETTING.

While the decorative motif is distinctly bluebird, the whole show is replete with fruits and flowers of many colors, and flags play an important part in the scheme as a whole. The artistic side of the show begins at the very gateway to the park, where gigantic incense burners, standing ten feet high, give forth perfume, which casts a soft glow over the woodland scene, and even tints the water of the artificial lake. Specially designed bluebird lanterns with rustic frames, bearing bluebird designs, dotted the 600-foot marquise leading from the park gate to the main entrance of the show, and all the way round the promenade last night. Latticed trellises at the main entrance were covered with greenery and roses, while at the arena side of the promenade, and set at regular intervals, were life-size figures of Pomona, the goddess of fruits, clasping in one hand a raised high gigantic illuminated poppy. The indirect lighting system, with opaque shades, coupled with the use of hundreds of brightly colored flags, banners and pennants hanging overhead lent to the scene a splendor which cannot adequately be described. Dozens of the fair-est daughters of the Gate City and neighboring communities attended the picturesque and radiant displays.

FINE EXHIBITS.

Among the most attractive exhibits is that of the Mutual Orange Distributors, a huge canopy, supporting a cornucopia, from which pours the golden fruit. Kewples of many sizes are used for embellishment. The entry is attended by Mrs. George Hayes of Redlands. Another entry of great beauty is that of Los Angeles county, provided by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley. This great mound of fruits has supporting posts with baskets of fruits ajop of them, while other baskets are suspended on chains extending from one post to another. At the top of the symbolic design is a large figure of the Angel Gabriel, with trumpet in hand.

The Highlands Chamber of Commerce has a rack display of varieties of fruit worked out in squares divided with red crepe ribbons. One of the most simple, and yet impressive, displays comes from the Etiwanda district and is the subject of favorable comment on all sides. It is a rack display of fruit, with the word "Peace" spelled by oranges in bluebird wrappers upon a field of fruit in white wrappers. The border is made of golden navels, with a wider border of yellow lemons.

Imperial county has a similar exhibit scheme, the words "Barbara Worth" being spelled out in grapefruits wrapped in scarlet wrappers, upon a field of unwrapped oranges. The Fresno city water department has an artesian well basin, the rim of which is fringed with scarlet cyclamen in bloom. The water gushes from the well in torrents.

BY ORANGE COUNTY.

Orange county has a unique display in the form of a gigantic water wheel, the outside of which is decorated with citrus fruits, while the center of the wheels is covered with legends, which set forth the great agricultural, horticultural and mineral resources of that wonderfully-rich county. The Fontana district leads them all for human interest, it appears, having a miniature orange packing-house running at full blast. The plant keeps a score of persons busy, washing, wrapping and packing the golden fruits, and even had a box mill running in connection with it. This is attracting a great deal of notice from visitors.

Colton has her city park duplicated on a large platform, the shrubbery, buildings, etc., all being done in miniature. Similar to this is the Pasadena entry—two large floats, upon which the civic beauty of the Crown City is set forth charmingly in miniature figures. The Pacific Electric Railway has a remarkable entry, in which the great electric interurban system is worked out in miniature, the whole scheme being in full operation at all times when the show is open. This entry is said to have cost more than $5000. Rather new and distinctive is the "Country Store" representative of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, with its 10,000 grower members, where handsome young women sell Sunkist fruit in pantomime fashion while the show is in progress.

WOMEN'S WORK.

While the women of Southern California have graced the by-product division of the show with the best citrus products their pantry shelves afford, they have been individually outstripped, it would seem, by Mrs. J. W. Aldridge of San Bernardino, who has a display covering an entire table. In this array are more than twenty different kinds of table delicacies made from citrus fruits.

The show affords seventeen feature exhibits entered by the following communities or organizations: Redlands Chamber of Commerce; Mutual Orange Distributors, Redlands; Elephant Orchards, Redlands; Orange county; Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley; Pacific Electric; Municipal Water Department, Fresno; Pasadena Chamber of Commerce; Pasadena Board of Trade; Fontana.

BIG McLAUGHLIN ESTATE SHARED.

Heirs of Millionaire Reach Amicable Settlement.

Averts Pending Battle Over Will Filed in North.

Hardware Company Here Part of Affected Property.

An amicable settlement of the $2,500,000 estate of the late Edward McLaughlin, pioneer banker and hardware magnate of California, which has been the cause of a heated legal battle in the San Jose courts since last August, was reached yesterday; according to a statement made by Attorney Oscar Mueller last night.

Mr. McLaughlin died at his San Jose home last August, at the age of 89. He was the founder and president of a San Jose bank, owner of two big office buildings in San Francisco and president of the Union Hardware and Metal Company of this city. He left five children, a son, Eugene O. McLaughlin, vice-president of the hardware firm, and four daughters.

At the time of his death he had given the bulk of his wealth to ecclesiatical and charitable institutions. No will was filed at the time of his death, and shortly afterwards the son filed a petition in the San Jose courts, asking that he be made administrator of the estate. While these letters of administration were pending, a will was filed by two of the late banker's sons-in-law, John Brooks and John A. Auzerais. The will named them as executors of the estate. According to a codicil of the will, dated October 8, 1918, Eugene McLaughlin had received his full portion of the estate and was not to share in the undivided residue, which was to go in equal shares to the four daughters, who reside in San Jose.

The will produced by the sons-in-law was never contested, though a vigorous contest was threatened unless an agreeable settlement could be reached. Yesterday this settlement was announced, and Attorney Mueller, who was associated in the case with Attorney Jack Barrett of San Francisco, stated that the shares of the estate were to be equalized that all the contestants were satisfied.

DELAY CONFIRMATION.

The Mayor's appointment of Dr. Julius Lincoln as a member of the Social Service Commission, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Harry J. McClean, was sent by the City Council, yesterday, to the Public Welfare Committee. This will delay Council action on the confirmation of the appointment until next Friday.

BIG GEM THEFT REPORTED.

Diamonds and numerous articles of jewelry, whose estimated value is placed at several thousand dollars, were reported yesterday as stolen from Mrs. Frank Peard, society matron and daughter of a wealthy Ventura rancher. The jewelry was taken from her suite in a downtown hotel.

It is believed that a pass-key thief entered the room in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Peard. Every article in Mrs. Peard's gem box was taken, with the exception of a pearl ring. The stolen valuables included a diamond lavallier, a pearl necklace and other pieces.

Mr. Peard declined to discuss the matter last night. The case is in the hands of a local detective agency.

Mrs. Peard was formerly Mrs. Edith Arnell of Ventura, and two months ago married Frank Peard of New York. They came to Los Angeles a few weeks ago on their way to New York.

TORN BODY SHIELDS CHILD.

That Miss Jessie M. Gearhardt, principal of the Loretta-street grammar school at 3408 Arroyo Seco avenue, was severely bitten by a savage dog while defending one of the little girl pupils of the school became known yesterday with the return to duty of the heroic principal.

Miss Gearhardt was bitten on New Year's Eve in the school yard when she rushed between the little girl scholar and the angry dog. The animal turned on Miss Gearhardt and bit her deeply on the left ankle and on the top of her left foot. She finally beat off the dog and was then taken to the Receiving Hospital, where her wounds were dressed. At her home, 360 North Breed street, she has remained for nearly a month under medical treatment.

The dog was placed under observation, but as he showed no signs of rabies the Pasteur treatment was not given to Miss Gearhardt. Her recovery has been slow. For several weeks after she left her bed she was unable to stand, but was confined to a wheel chair. While she will bear the scars of the dog's teeth possibly for life, it is believed that Miss Gearhardt will suffer no other ill effects from her experience.

INTER-DENOMINATIONAL.

FAITH CHURCH
(INTERDENOMINATIONAL)
CHARLES BRANDON BOOTH, Pastor

The three great fundamental purposes of this church are:
(a) To aid in bringing to the community a deep spirituality based on true thinking and the highest religious ideals. To co-operate with the other Churches of Southern California in the advancement of the work of the Church of God; and to bring spiritual solace and practical Christian aid to any who may be facing a time of perplexity.
(b) To help in the solution of the great problem of local and national unrest, through the bringing of liberally conservative men to the people who shall attend the Church services and such other gatherings as may be held from time to time on week days. To assist in the education of the people along lines of broad, trained and useful thinking for the purpose of stimulating service to their fellowmen.
(c) To interest those who attend in the various worthy local endeavors for the amelioration of conditions among the needy; to appropriate, from time to time, from any surplus funds that may accrue to the Church treasury such sums as will aid in the work of such local charity institutions that may apply to our Church Board for appropriations (these institutions to be endorsed by the Social Service Commission, the State Board of Charities, or both); and to aid or undertake the establishment of other such institutions as may be for the best interests of charity work in Southern California.

WILL EXCHANGE PULPITS

Dr. Brougher in First Methodist, Locke in Temple Baptist Church

A notable event in local church circles will be the exchange of pulpits tomorrow morning by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, and Dr. Charles Edward Locke, pastor of the First Methodist Church. These two nationally-known ministers, although serving different denominations, have worked side by side in Los Angeles for the last ten years, and the exchange of pulpits will be in the nature of a celebration of their long friendship. The order of service in the two churches will be as follows:

At the First Methodist Church Dr. Brougher will bring a special message to the congregation at the morning service. In the evening Dr. Locke will preach on "Three Remarkable Britishers, John Knox, Robert Burns and Lloyd George." The choir will sing Scotch melodies and soloists will render "Loch Lomond," "Annie Laurie" and other favorites.

At Temple Baptist Church Dr. Locke will deliver the morning discourse. At 7:15 p.m. scenes from China will be shown on the screen, and at 7:30 Mme. Lelia Castberg, a noted dramatic interpreter of the Bible will read a Bible story. Following the reading Dr. Brougher will preach on "Divine Healing—Does God Heal in Answer to Prayer?"

ASSISTANT FOR PASTOR.
UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

Two years ago Hon. Theodore D. Kanouse, moderator, spoke to the trustees of the First Universalist Church, 1373 South Alvarado street, concerning the advantages of installing an assitant pastor. The church officials indorsed the plan of Mr. Kanouse, but declared they saw no possibility of financing the scheme. "Preachers have to eat, like other mortals," they said. Last Sunday, Dr. Charles Elwood Nash, at the close of his sermon on "Religion ah You Like It," was approached by a stranger who placed in his hands an envelope containing sufficient funds to pay a good salary of an assistant pastor for a period of five years. Today the church board is looking for the right man to fill the position. A further fund has since been provided, probably from the same source, although the name of the donor cannot be learned, to increase the salary of the quartette choir and to buy new and special music. The church is also seeking the services of a new tenor.

"SPIRITUALISM."
WESTLAKE PRESBYTERIAN.

"Can We Talk with the Dead? Is Spiritualism True? How Shall We Interpret Sir Oliver Lodge and 'Raymond?' Is there any Defense for Christians who Ask Questions of a Ouija Board? Is there any Scientific Demonstration of a Future Life? Does Death End All?" These questions will be discussed by Dr. G. A. Briegleb in a sermon on "What Am I to Believe Concerning the Future Life?" at the Westlake Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening. In the morning Dr. Briegleb will discuss the question, "How Can One Avoid Gray Hairs, Wrinkles and Premature Age?"

"HOOVER FOR PRESIDENT."
CHURCH OF THE PEOPLE

Rev. V. B. Tahmisian of Zisjidere, Asia Minor, has accepted the invitation of Reynold E. Blight to speak tomorrow morning before the Church of the People on the subject, "Conditions in Armenia and What America Ought to Do." Mr. Tahmisian escaped death at the hands of the Turks thirteen times, and on one occasion was given fifteen minutes to prepare himself to be hanged. A musical programme will be rendered by Mrs. Paula Dohrman and Miss Ruth Snow. Next Friday evening the Women's Fellowship Club will hold a "Hoover-for-President" meeting in Blanchard Hall. The public is invited.

TO SPEAK ON HEALING.
IMMANUEL PRESBYTERIAN.

The visit to Los Angeles of James Hickson, prominent Episcopal layman of England, gives appropriateness to the sermon topic of Dr. Herbert Booth Smith at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, tomorrow evening. Dr. Smith said yesterday that he takes no extreme positions on the subject of healing, but only those warranted by the findings of modern scientific psychology and the Bible. The topic for tomorrow evening, said Dr. Smith, refers not to the Presbyterian church in particular, but to orthodox evangelical churches in general. Tomorrow morning Rev. Ira Landreth, D.D., will preach on "Atlas on the Water Wagon—Get It Done!"

Mrs. Bibby will preach on "Spiritual X-Rays" at the evening service tomorrow.

Dr. Garland, and Prof. Otto Heinzelman, of Prof. J. B. Tw[illegible] and Prof. Otto Heinzelman, will leave for the Orient. Next week Mr. Garland will return to Los Angeles for a few days before he will start an evangelistic campaign in Japan.

Little, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Mr. Little will discourse tomorrow on the question: "Did Jesus Christ Have a Spiritual Body?" The spiritual state, between death and the resurrection, and the spiritual state of men who had not been obedient?"

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Hodgin will speak to the Adult Class on "How the Arts Began." At 8 o'clock Mr. W. H. Pierce will speak on "The Present Industrial Outlook."

"THE CHRISTIANITY OF JESUS."

What is the Christianity of Jesus? What part has it played in the past? What part will it play in the future affairs of the world? These questions will be answered by Dr. Will A. "THE GREATEST OF THESE IS CHARITY."
FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST.

Services at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, tomorrow will be held in the auditorium of the Handel Apartments, 6th and Lucerne streets, pending the completion of the church building at Wilshire boulevard and Normandie avenue. The subject of the lesson-sermon tomorrow will be "Charity." The golden text is from I Corinthians, 13th chapter, 13th verse: "And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity." The lesson-sermon will include the following from the Bible: "Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away. For we know in part, and we prophesy in part. But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

GREET ABBOTT WITH "RESIGN."

Imperial Valley Farmers Demand that Entire Highway Board Quit.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, Feb. 13.—The Imperial County Farm Bureau board of directors, representing fourteen farm centers in Imperial Valley, today passed a resolution asking the County Highway Commission to resign in a body. The Farm Bureau represents 1500 Imperial Valley farmers.

Mayor "Casey" Abbott of Calexico, under fire as a member of the commission, returned today from a two months' trip to Europe. "I will answer any questions you may ask and will tell the truth about anything you may wish to know," he informed his accusers.

REAL HEALING IS REPORTED.

...day's service and made the opening prayer. Assisting clergymen during the ministration were Rev. J. Arthur Evans, Dr. Flavel S. Luther, Rev. William Carson Shaw, Rev. Ellis Bishop and Rev. A. G. H. Bodia. Dr. Leslie Learned closed the service and pronounced the benediction.

Mr. Hickson again spoke with simple eloquence of the divine power to heal all who have faith. The crowded room was hushed and many heads were bowed low in prayer. He laid hands upon everyone who asked for help and uttered a low-spoken prayer in each case. Calm and unhurried, yet he moved from one to another swiftly. He said after the meeting that he felt that the manifestation of faith was even stronger than on the day before.

In the midst of his ministrations he was hurriedly called to a woman in one of the side pews. She was said to be desperately ill. He laid hands upon her and prayed over her, after which she was taken outside to a waiting automobile.

After addressing the meeting of the Christian League of Healing and Helpful Service here next Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Hickson will go to San Diego for two days. He will then go to Santa Barbara for three days and from there to San Francisco. After completing his schedule on this coast he will continue his trip around the world by going to the Orient.

WITNESS RELUCTANT.

So One Charge Against Rodman of "Globe" is Dismissed.

Because Otto Bittlemeyer said that he was satisfied with an investment of $200 in the Globe Company of Los Angeles and he did not remember that any false representations were made to him, one charge of embezzlement against James S. Rodman, president of the company, was dismissed yesterday by Justice Summerfield. The dismissal was made upon motion of Deputy District Attorney Heinecke, who said that apparently the main witness was reluctant to testify against Rodman. Several other charges are pending against Rodman.

IN CHURCHES TOMORROW.

...yesterday that the meeting of the Methodist ministers of Los Angeles next Monday morning will be held at Trinity Church. Among the speakers will be Bishop Earl Scranton, who will discuss the subject of the unification of the two branches of Methodism.

"WHERE IS GOD?" FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.

"The Vital Message," the second sermon of a series of discourses on psychological subjects, will be delivered at the First Congregational Church tomorrow evening by Dr. Carl S. Patton, the theme having been suggested to Dr. Patton by the recent utterances of Sir Oliver Lodge and Conan Doyle. "If the world is really in possession of some totally new knowledge 'from the beyond' we certainly should all have the benefit of it," declared Dr. Patton yesterday. Tomorrow morning Rev. Holland F. Burr will address Dr. Patton's congregation on the subject, "Where is God?"

"ANNEX" OR "EXTRA." WESTLAKE METHODIST.

"Is religion an 'annex' or an 'extra?' Are we to remain only 'improved humans' as a result of religion, or is there a very essential difference resulting from the acceptance of Jesus Christ as a personal Savior? The Bible has some exact statements concerning the answer to these questions," declared Rev. Thomas O. Grieves yesterday, and in my sermon at the Westlake Methodist Church tomorrow morning I shall quote the Scripture on these points." In the evening Mr. Grieves will discuss "Two Ways and Two Ends." The Westlake Methodist Church has adopted the third Wednesday evening in each month as "Church Night." A supper will be served at 5:15 p.m., followed by an exhibition of interesting pictures and a fellowship meeting. Next Friday night the glee club of the University of Southern California will give a free concert at the church.

Francis will preach at morning and evening services.

Talbert, president of the National Association of Colored Woman's Clubs, one of the most scholarly women of her race, will give a lecture and recital next Monday evening at the First A.M.E. Church at Eighth street and Towne avenue. During Mrs. Talbert's three years as president of the Colored Women's Clubs of America all indebtedness has been lifted from the homestead at Washington, D. C., of the late Frederick Douglas, noted negro orator and leader. Mrs. Talbert has launched a drive to raise $10,000 for remodeling and decorating the Douglas homestead. During her stay in Los Angeles Mrs. Talbert will be the guest of Rev. and Mrs. A. Milton Ward, 1466 Griffith avenue.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME. BOYLE HEIGHTS METHODIST.

A special musical programme will be given at the evening service at the Boyle Heights Methodist Episcopal Church, 300 North St. Louis street, by the Rosseau family, including the parents and seven children, who will render sacred songs and play sacred selections on thirty-five musical instruments. A short sermon will be delivered by Rev. William M. Jeffers, the pastor, on "Wanted—A Fire on Boyle Heights." At the morning service Rev. Jeffers will preach on "The Kind of a Church Needed in Boyle Heights." Much interest is being shown in the community service programmes given each Wednesday at Boyle Heights church, a dinner being served by the women of the church at 6:15 o'clock, followed by a lecture, junior choir rehearsal and board meetings until 7:30 o'clock, when all gather in the assembly room for the regular mid-week prayer service.

KING COTTON'S NEW EMPIRE.

Interesting Story of Fleecy Crop Told in the Farm Section.

King Cotton's empire is expanding rapidly in the Southwest, so rapidly, in fact, that there is solicitude in some quarters that the fleecy crop may make serious inroads in the production of food and feed crops, though experts say there is plenty of land for all.

Certain parts of the Southwest have gone "cotton crazy" and are banking on this crop above all others. It is a most interesting story and it will be told for the first time in its entirety in tomorrow's issue of the Times Farm and Tractor Section. Rotogravure illustrations depict activities in the leading cotton centers.

And the issue isn't all cotton. It contains thirty-two pages full from cover to cover of informing articles, agricultural news reports and illustrations.

ROWELL RECOVERS.

Prayer Credited with Saving Pastor After Human Help Failed.

Dr. N. I. Rowell, pastor of the Mesa Congregational Church, who has been confined to his home for more than a month, due to a nervous breakdown, will occupy his pulpit both morning and evening tomorrow. The visit of Layman James Moore Hickson, the famous healer, has so impressed Dr. Rowell that the Congregational pastor will devote his morning service to the topic of prayer and healing through faith in Jesus Christ. Dr. Rowell's remarkable recovery is attributed to the prayers of those who, after human help had failed, called on God to restore the aged minister.

Plans were made yesterday by the members of the church to receive and welcome Dr. Rowell at a church dinner to be held a week from Wednesday evening in the church parlors. Prominent ministers of the city also are to be invited, and especially those who have helped Dr. Rowell during his illness.

TO AID RENT PAYERS.

Farmer Tells Them Council is Ready to Help Curb Profiteers.

Councilman Bert Farmer told the members of the Rent Payers' Association at Symphony Hall, 232 South Hill street, last night, that he believes that all of the members of the Council as well as the City Attorney are anxious to give any assistance possible under the law by preparing and passing an ordinance to stamp out rent profiteering. Frank Purcell said that most of the apartment-house profiteers were recent arrivals in Los Angeles who had made big profits in other cities and who came here last fall and bought apartment-houses. He said that many of these new owners were women. Two hundred members of the association attended last night's meeting. Chairman M. O. Graves announced that Mayor Snyder had promised to be present at the next meeting.

POWER REHEARING.

Supreme Court Grants City's Petition in Edison Company Case.

The Supreme Court of California Thursday handed down a decision granting the petition of the city of Los Angeles for a rehearing of the case tried recently by the District Court of Appeal, which resulted in a verdict against the operating agreement whereby aqueduct power is being distributed by the Southern California Edison Company. This agreement was attacked by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

Superior Judge Shenk ruled in favor of the city, but the District Court of Appeal reversed his decision. Special Council Mathews for the city carried the case to the Supreme Court, asking for a rehearing, which was granted.

What Will You Do If The Farmer Goes On Strike?

In the troublous period since the signing of the armistice, labor in the United States has been involved in a series of strikes, capital "has shown a disposition to strike in the sense of not seeking investments that are essential to the country," and now the Post Office Department warns us the farmers threaten to strike. "The time is very near," says one letter to the Department, "when we farmers will have to curtail production and raise only what we need for our own use, and let the other fellows look out for themselves." "I have just finished figuring up what the eggs, poultry, and cream that I sold last year brought me, and I will not be in the business next year," says another. Because the price of what the farmer sells is going down and the price of what he buys is going up, he is looking, it seems, with envious and resentful eyes upon the city dweller who "works only six or eight hours a day and makes two or three times as much as the farmer," whose working-day is "from twelve to sixteen hours."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, February 14th, presents the views of the leading farm journals upon the replies received from farmers by the Post Office Department to a questionnaire which it recently sent out to two hundred thousand agriculturists. There is information in this article that deeply concerns millions of city dwellers and the warning sounded is not to be lightly ignored.

WHEN IS A STEW?

Alcoholic liquors can be used in cooking without violating the prohibition law, according to the ruling of one officer. If that is the case, why isn't it possible to have a 47-per-cent. stew?

EVERYBODY'S UNCLE.

One of the leading papers of Rome attacks America on the strength of Carter Glass's letter regarding further credits to foreign countries who are not producing as they should. The Italians seem to be the children of Europe. They have an idea that America will play Santa Claus forever, no matter how they behave.

FOR HIS COUNTRY.

As the income-tax bureau will get the long end of Jack Dempsey's next million-dollar battle that eminent pugilist may safely claim that he is fighting for his country.

RUSHING THINGS.

Iowa Democrats are already booming Edwin T. Meredith, the new Secretary of Agriculture, for the Presidency and will present his name to the national convention. Possibly Meredith had best step over in Jericho and raise a few whiskers.

THE POOR BURGLAR.

The arrest of a safe-blower, red-handed, at the age of 83 years shows that the supposedly splendid opportunities of that occupation are overrated. Here he was, an octogenarian, and yet had failed to amass money enough on which to retire. He might have engaged in some nice genteel business like selling sugar or shoes and made a fortune without being left to the mercy of his enemies.

AVENGING HIS HONOR.

An eminent American by the name of Ignatz Jakobowski was insulted in Chicago the other day. Ignatz is the walking delegate of the Hod Carriers' Union and while riding around in his Packard he came to a building job where a man was working as a hod carrier whose face he could not recognize as among the faithful in attendance at the sessions of the union. Filled with righteous suspicion Ignatzat once demanded a view of the worker's union card. The man calmly replied that he had left the card at home on the piano. This insult was more than Ignatz could patiently endure. He drew his gun and shot the offender dead. The funny part of it is that now there is talk of arresting Jakobowski, although this happened in Chicago, where every union man is supposed to defend his honor to the uttermost. Are men to be permitted to speak discourteously to walking delegates and get away with it?

EFFECTS OF OVERCHARGING.

People are leaving Los Angeles daily by reason of the rapacity of A FEW MONEY-MAD LANDLORDS. Not content with a reasonable return on their investments, they have been speculating and profiteering on the necessities of the strangers within our gates. While it is probably true that for every tourist who leaves two are coming to take his place, yet it was not necessary for Los Angeles to have proved so grasping that some of those arriving with an intent to make their homes here should be impelled to go elsewhere.

Taken as a whole, the people of Los Angeles are not niggardly. The adage of live and let live has received in the past a general recognition here. But the scarcity of houses, due to the suspension of building during the war, has given to a number of ruthless landlords an opportunity to exact rents from their tenants that conditions do not justify. The coal strike in the East last fall turned tens of thousands of tourists towards the Pacific Slope. It was impossible to house them all without much crowding. But there had been tourist rushes to Los Angeles before. The residents often discommoded themselves; but it is the first time that advantage has been taken of the abnormal condition to speculate in rentals.

Instances have been reported to The Times in which rents have been raised five times in less than six months. A few rapacious apartment-house owners have tripled or quadrupled their rates. The Times is gratified to be able to report that this pernicious and shortsighted practice has not been general. We know of other instances where LANDLORDS POSSESSING A BIT OF THE MILK OF HUMAN KINDNESS have made no increase in rentals whatever. But the greed of the few is certain to work to the injury of the many. Los Angeles will suffer for years from the effects of overcharging this winter.

Most of our midwinter guests are persons of means, who can make a choice of the sanctuary to which they shall flee to escape the rigors of zero weather. They may have given up their pocketbooks to the landlords this year; but they will never forget. Our only regret is that the innocent will have to suffer with the guilty, that the whole of Los Angeles must pay for years to come for the greed of the few grasping landlords this year. A reasonable increase in rentals was justified by the higher taxes on real estate and incomes and the general increase in the cost of living. But there are too many instances in which the advances were wholly unreasonable.

A FIGHT FOR FREAKS.

There is a new league in town. It is an association to protect the initiative against the initiative. Dr. John R. Haynes, one of the fathers of the initiative, has caught his progeny, serpent like, in the act of swallowing its own tail.

California has been struggling in the throes of direct legislation for ten years. The single-taxers and the prohibitionists spent millions experimenting with it; and, while the amendments to the Constitution which they proposed were all beaten, other millions had to be expended in campaigns of education in order that the industry and the credit of the State might not be ruined by a few radicals.

Whenever a general election comes around the single-taxers circulate petitions and place on the ballot an amendment providing that the land must pay all the taxes, that industry and luxury taxes shall be suppressed. Their amendment has a place among the direct legislation proposals to be voted for, cleverly camouflaged so that the average voter will not be aware of its vicious nature. It is then necessary for the producers of the State to form organizations and raise money for circularizing the voters, telling them what the camouflaged single-tax amendment really means. As there are more than 1,000,000 voters in the State the cost for paper, printing and postage is enormous.

All that trouble and expense is occasioned by the initiative. An amendment that cannot command five votes in the Legislature goes on the ballot for the general election. How is it done? A millionaire of the name of Fels made his fortune manufacturing soap. At his death he left an endowment for the purpose of promoting single-tax propaganda. The annuities from the endowment furnish $50,000 for a single-tax campaign every two years. If there is no campaign the money is not expended. Single-taxers are always to be had for hire; for they win even if their amendment loses. The circulators of the single-tax petitions get 10 cents for every signature they secure, and the 50,000 signatures necessary to put the petition on the State ballot cost but $5000.

The interest on that endowment comes in every year, and every two years the petitions are circulated and the single-tax fight is on. There is perpetual motion for you, so long as the present Constitution of the State of California endures. The producers of the State are condemned to the eternal torment of fighting single tax every two years. It isn't a question of merit, but of dollars. And there is always the danger that the electorate will some time nod and the single-tax amendment will get by. The argument against the single tax is as old as the decalogue. If the amendment were to carry, the tax on land would be so high that renters would be driven off; the owner would not be able to do enough himself to meet the taxes; and fertile California acres would turn back to the desert. But argument cannot end the perpetual motion set in operation by the Fels endowment.

This year a movement has been organized to use direct legislation for the purpose of lessening the evil of the single-tax initiative. An amendment has been proposed which provides that any petition affecting land taxation must receive the signature of 25 per cent. of the voters of the State to become operative. The present requirement is 8 per cent. Using the initiative to curb the initiative is tantamount to fighting the devil with fire.

But now comes Dr. Haynes with a new organization known as the "League to Protect the Initiative." He says that the initiative mustn't be used to limit the powers of the initiative. Professing to be opposed to single tax, he prefers that single tax shall win, rather than that the initiative shall be touched. "Let the State go back to the desert, provided my fad survives!"

The Times fails to see how the question of percentages involves the principle of the initiative. Whether the law says 25 per cent. or 8 per cent., the principle involved is the same. But the 25-per-cent. provision would act as a deterrent to perpetual single-tax agitation. Fixing a low per cent. for signatures encourages small minorities to use direct legislation in the hope that a light vote at the election may allow a minority to win. It is patent that, if there is a unanimous demand for a certain act, it will be possible to secure the signatures of one voter out of four in favor of it; and that is all the anti-single-tax amendment requires.

In fighting that amendment Dr. Haynes and his associates are making a fight for single tax. They are lending encouragement to a small minority to keep up their attacks on the will of the majority; they are attacking the prosperity and the credit of the State; they are keeping California to the front as the haven of freak legislation; they are forcing the waste of $500,000 every two years. And they say they are acting in the public interest! They must not be surprised if right-thinking people come to regard them as only a few degrees removed from the parlor Bolshevists, all of whom are for single tax.

THE SPITTER SPIKED.

An eastern woman spending the winter in Los Angeles writes to say that this is the "spittiest town" she was ever in. There is a perfectly good anti-spit ordinance on the municipal statute books, but who ever saw a policeman make an arrest for its violation? Ten-toed porkers occupy points of vantage in the open sections of the street cars and blithely spew into the faces of the unfortunates behind them. Every block of every street is pock-marked with tobacco quids and worse. Private remonstrance arouses the fury of the performer. Even baseball has banned the spit ball as indecent. Everybody knows that saliva carries and breeds assorted, plain and fancy germs. Some parts of Main street sidewalks are little better than hog sties, and Broadway is by no means immune. Spitting is becoming a great outdoor sport in Los Angeles, but the players should observe ordinary rules of sportsmanship and practice their art in the middle of the street where there is a fair chance of something substantial hitting them.

There is much discussion of whether the bodies of the dead soldiers buried in France should be brought home. It is our idea that mothers who prefer their sons to lie where they fell should allow mothers who prefer their sons brought home the freedom of choice they take to themselves.

GOLDEN WATERS.

Two men view a mighty waterfall.

The first sees the glitter of the spray, the grandeur of the cleft mountain, the solemnity of the pine trees, the immensity of the snow-capped peaks beyond. To him it is a revelation of the divine. Its inspiration fills his soul with unsatisfied longings. He burns to realize in glowing words or on colorful canvas the feelings he knows he can never adequately express.

The other man, also, is impressed with the sublimity of the setting. But his eye immediately measures the perpendicular of the waters, his mind quickly calculates the number of gallons per second tumbling over the rocky ledge; his memory estimates how many miles away lie the large cities and fertile plains of the valley beyond. His brain pictures great projects to spring from this miracle of nature, and he knows how his dreams may be practically realized.

This is the seer, the prophet, the enthusiast.

Such seers and doers have penetrated many of the mountain fastnesses of California and have harnessed the waters of the wilderness for the service of civilization. Their prophetic insight has added millions to the wealth of the Pacific Coast by turning its mighty waterfalls into veritable streams of gold. Yet they have only scratched the possibilities contained in these inexhaustible sources of power.

The hydro-electric development in the West has already attained proportions that promise in the near future to make this State independent of every other source of fuel energy. For we know, if it were necessary, we could turn every wheel and warm and light every home between Eureka and San Diego with the untapped water power at present running to waste in a thousand creeks and canyons.

What has already been accomplished is an earnest of greater development to come. Energetic enterprise has built power plants and established distribution systems from all the most available water-power sources throughout the State.

The nearly-completed project of the San Joaquin Light and Power Company in Central California illustrates the advance being made in this important industry. Near Auberry the stored waters of the San Joaquin River are being carried through a three-mile tunnel to where with a sheer drop of 350 feet they can be converted by turbines and dynamos into the equivalent of 45,000 horse power.

This power will be carried at a pressure of 110,000 volts on high tension wires to distances that make a new record in electrical engineering. To connect these with other systems, north and south, is the aim of the projectors, so that every community from San Diego to the Oregon line can be reached by an interdependent electric service. Engineers declare, when completed, this will be the most extensive transmission system in the world.

Even to the lay mind the advantages of water power over every other form of converted energy is easily apparent. The economic difference between letting your force fall naturally from the clouds and having to drag it up artificially from the bowels of the earth is obvious. Gravity is the supreme force in the universe. Gravity is aiding the man who uses water power and hampering the one who employs coal or fuel oil.

Again the cost of transmission is all in favor of hydro-electric generation. By this system one small copper wire can convey thousands of horse power and deliver it in a fraction of a second at points hundreds of miles away from the source of supply. Coal and oil have to be hauled slowly and laboriously over expensive railroads before they become available for the ultimate consumer.

Moreover, coal mines may give out and oil fields be pumped dry. The cost of production may—as it is already doing—set their price per horse power every year at a higher figure. But no human agency can raise the cost of gravity. When the hydro-electric plant and the transmission system has been paid for, though food and raw material and labor doubled and tripled in price, the original value of a kilowatt at the powerhouse would remain stationary. And so long as the rains fall from heaven, which means so long as this earth remains inhabitable for human beings, hydro-electric energy will be always on the job. Had Tennyson been an engineer he would have made his brook sing to far better effect, "Coal may come and oil may go, but I go on forever."

California has been immensely blessed by the vast reservoirs of oil with which nature has underlaid so much of her territory. We know how much wealth has poured into the coffers of her citizens from the development of her oil fields. But the golden waters that rush down the sides of her eternal mountains are to be held as one of her most conspicuous assets.

DENMARK'S GAIN.

Despite attempts at German colonization the province of Schleswig has decided by a plebiscite to ally itself with Denmark; and by so doing another of the gyves riveted by Bismarck has been rent asunder. Germany secured possession of that territory through a combination of ruse and force. She aided Austria to acquire it by conquest and then, by conquest, she took it from her. A pledge that the inhabitants should decide by vote with what country they wished to unite was made to France during the time of the Third Empire. But, after Sedan, that promise was regarded by Germany as not binding. No pledge unsupported by force was ever kept by a German government.

For more than fifty years Germany has been trying to win the affection of her slave, Schleswig. But while the people have paid forced taxes to support the German Empire their hearts have always been with Denmark. The province is adjacent to the strong, wealthy and populous German state of Hamburg, and colonization has been going on for nearly two generations; but when a test vote was taken Denmark won.

If any doubt has remained in pacifist minds as to whether the sympathy of the little countries of Europe is with Germany, that vote in Schleswig should be the final answer. The German rule was one of iron, and Prussia was the blacksmith that forged the chains. And never were a people more heartily hated by their immediate neighbors. The Danes in Schleswig, the French in Alsace and Lorraine, the Poles in East Prussia and the native tribes in all the German colonies joined in their antipathy for the Prussian ruling class.

If the Schleswig plebiscite is to be taken as a criterion Germany will lose in every instance where the principle of self-determination is applied to former German provinces. It would seem that the hyphenated Germans in this country should begin to wake up to the fact that the world is sick and tired of all forms of Prussianism. Germany lost a great deal more than the war; she lost the respect of every free people on earth.

NO NATIONAL HOLIDAYS.

There are no national holidays. The making of legal holidays is a matter which rests with the different States. There is nothing in the Constitution clearly giving the Federal government power over such matters. All powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution nor prohibited by it to the States are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people. It is true that July 4 and December 25 are legal holidays in all the States, but they were made holidays by separate enactment in and by each State. The President of the United States does proclaim the last Thursday in November to be a day of thanksgiving. It is not his proclamation, however, which makes the day a legal holiday, but that of the Governor in each State. This is only one of many ways in which the powers of a State government are superior to those of the national government. The powers of the latter are strictly limited by the Constitution, the Tenth Amendment of which expressly reserves all other powers to the States.—[Indianapolis News.

SAINT VALENTINE.

BY JAMES M. WARNACK.

Nearly seventeen centuries ago, during the reign of Claudius Gothicus, before the writings of the apostles had been combined into that marvelous literature, the New Testament, there lived in Rome a priest whose zeal for the new religion of love so incensed the power-loving worshipers of Mars that the latter decided to take the life of the good saint. Accordingly, on February 14, St. Valentine was beheaded by the Romans—and in his death another star was added to that constellation of martyrs whose shining examples of kindness and courage bear witness to the nobility of character which genuine faith in the Christian doctrine never fails to inspire.

According to an old belief, prevalent before Chaucer's time, the mating of birds began on St. Valentine's Day, and it is easy to see how the general acceptance of such a belief would come to impress the minds of the young in whom the divinely-planted sparks of life had begun to flame. However the day came to be considered sacred to lovers, the old custom of youth and maid of sending dainty tokens of affection to each other was a beautiful one and it is to be regretted that in America, at least, that custom is falling off or has lost the pristine sentiment formerly attached to it. This decadence of sentiment seems only to have taken place within the last generation.

Why is this so? Is it because even the youth of our land are becoming so money-mad, so ambitious for office and fame and some of them so confused and poisoned by the perusal of putrid "best sellers" that they have no time or desire for pure sentiment? Have we reached that point of superlative sophistication which renders us ashamed of a blush? Is young America abandoning those fine sentiments which are the heritage of the pure-minded and which contain the promise of a better, stronger, finer race? With the loss of sentiment comes also the loss of clean humor, for the two are very closely related. Even the old-time satirical valentines, sent by bachelors to old maids, and vice versa, in order to emphasize some physical or mental peculiarity of the recipient, have degenerated into vulgar caricatures. To be sure, the boys and girls still send one another valentines and they cost more money than they used to cost. They are expensive, beautifully printed, highly embossed, but somehow they seem to lack the fragrance of thought, the sweetness of motive that clung like the scent of wild roses to those valentines of the long ago. Remember those little cards, bordered with paper lace, on which the red birds and blue birds were pasted—those wonderful little birds with white envelopes in their bills?

And, then, what a thrill you used to get when you would carefully lift the bird from the card and read the note scratched upon her wing! It was a simple note and unsigned in order that you might be sure it was not forged, in order that you might have no doubt about who sent it! The note merely read, "I'm thinking of you" or "Ever of thee." That was all, but it was enough—and because you believed it, because your faith in womanhood was strong and because your life was pure today you are king of a cottage in which your wife is queen "and many children are playing round your door." Let the darlings play and keep them children as long as you can—but when they begin to question, when it becomes your duty to tell them something of this old world and of life (of which you yourself know so little, after all) explain to them how the forces of darkness and light always contend for the mastery of the soul; deny not the existence of the dragon, but insist upon the fact (for it is a fact) that in the end the angel always conquers the beast.

Tell your girl or your boy (for the virtue of the latter is as precious to him and as valuable to the world as that of the former) that every thing in life may be beautiful if we only make it so. Tell them that true manhood and womanhood are equally deserving of respect and admiration and that therefore sex is a sacred thing.

The writer is no preacher and while he has his own religious views, is not now advocating any religion or creed except that of physical and mental hygiene. If cleanliness of body and a complementary respect for pure sentiment were more generally taught it is very probable that within another generation or so the old valentine days would come back.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

RETIREMENT.

The blamedest bard that ever was,
all day I punch my lyre; and passing neighbors often pause and say,
"Why not retire? You have a bundle put away, so let your labors close; you now are locoed, bent and gray and need a long repose. So put away your ancient harp and can the rhythmic wheeze, and emulate the flossy sharp who basks in gilded ease." And still my trusty harp I swat, as I have done so long, and every day attempt to trot upon the peaks of song. For when a man lays down his tools and says he'll work no more and joins the loafing bunch that drools around the Blue Front store, he advertises to all men, to everyone's distress, that he will never find again the number of his mess. Oh, not for me the rocking chair before a dotard's fire, and long white whiskers made of hair—I won't give up my lyre. I'll never see the day, I trust, when I'll be satisfied to sit around the house and rust and some punk hobby ride. For years to come I have the hunch, I'll write my limping lines, and make Bill Shakespeare and that bunch take in their blooming signs.

WALT MASON.

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

My Cousin Anne says there are some
Women who make a god of their loo-
King-glass, and there are some who
Make a god of their housework.
And she had an aunt on her mother's side who got up from her
Death-bed the day before she died
To put out the Monday morning
Washing she hadn't skipped in fif-
Ty years, and then went to bed
And died satisfied, and last summer she was visiting with an aunt
On her father's side who was almost as bad, only with her it was Washing dishes. Let them play
A day at the seashore and to make
It stick everybody would have
To get up an hour early so as to
Be sure that the dishes were all
Done before they left, and then
Maybe they would miss the car
Because the aunt would dig up
A pot or a pan at the last minute and insist on doing it, and
Let them plan an afternoon round-
Up of bargains at the department
Stores, by the time the dishes
Were done and the ride to town
Was made the really bargainy
Bargains were all gone.

He advised that specifications be authorized for bids on both classes of material, and these will be presented at the next meeting of the board.

CASE OF BORAX KING NEAR END.

Thorkildsen Divorce Trial Finale Due Wednesday.

Wife Denies Excessive Use of Tobacco, Liquor.

"Sweetheart" Letter to Her Husband is Exhibit.

Argument will start in the Thorkildsen divorce suit before Judge Works Tuesday morning. On Monday, to which date the sensational trial was continued at the close of court yesterday afternoon, Attorney Michael Shannon will resume evidence in sur-rebuttal. This, with evidence by Mrs. Thorkildsen's attorneys to combat the sur-rebuttal, is expected to consume the day. Some time Wednesday Judge Works will give his opinion. It is expected to embody a vivid word picture of life in the Thorkildsen home as it was portrayed by the evidence.

Yesterday's session was devoted to squaring evidence and closing gaps. Mrs. Selina Livingston Thorkildsen was recalled and questioned as to cigarette smoking and intoxicants. She declared she indulged only moderately in liquor and smoked cigarettes in moderation. Her limit was eight or ten cigarettes during the day and evening, especially if she did not go to bed before 4 a.m., as was sometimes the case, she said. Testimony by witnesses for Thomas Thorkildsen, the borax king, was that Mrs. Thorkildsen smoked two to three packs of cigarettes a day.

Dr. Charles H. Bryson, called by Attorney Shannon, was not of the opinion of Dr. Andrew S. Lobingier that a certain examination, such as appeared in the evidence, could be made unless the patient was under an anaesthetic. In fact, he said, it would not be possible to make the examination and determine results with a patient fully conscious.

The case presents declarations and contradictions, with a mass of expert medical testimony and a supposition that two women and not one was operated upon, as described by Dr. Halstead and Interne Dunn of the staff of St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, in their depositions.

A "sweetheart" letter from Mrs. Thorkildsen to her husband was one of the very few documents introduced in the case. She asked him to hurry home, as it was the longest week she had ever spent.

"I want your arms around me at night. I can't stand being away from you much longer. So buy a few yards of ticket and come home to your little wife. Here's oodles of love and an absent treatment."

This was signed "Sallie."

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY LADY JANE.

Friday Morning Club.

Granville Barker, distinguished English playwright and producer of plays, spoke at the Friday Morning Club yesterday to an audience that taxed the capacity of the clubhouse. Mr. Barker's plays and his production of plays have become so widely known that one, at least in the Far West, almost forgets that he is an actor of distinction. His talk yesterday brought out the latter fact preeminently, however, and might have been taken as an intelligent and most convincing lesson for actors.

The profession provoked some severe criticism by the speaker, who stated that he is getting sufficiently along in years to lament the excellent acting of times gone by.

"Acting is so bad now that I am ashamed of it," he said. "If a pianist or even a baseball player should appear in public without any more skill than the average actor we should not tolerate him. The art of the theater cannot exist without good acting, and, while the acting of the Elizabethan and eighteenth century drama was largely a matter of deportment, still, there was skill there of which we have very little now. Furthermore, our audiences are not sufficiently critical. The art of the theater began, not with the writing of plays, but with the acting of them, and then came the Robertson and the Ibsen movements, in which the play supplanted the acting. We should have theaters in our universities in which there would be intelligent audiences. An actor cannot be taught by the simple means of training him in one play, but must be broadly educated in not only the drama, but in life as well. There must be collaboration between the actors and the producers; also, naturally, with the dramatist."

The determining characteristic of modern drama, Mr. Barker stated, for the producing of these play is psychological construction, and for the producing of these plays there must be an atmosphere which develops the play's potentialities. Without that atmosphere, he declared, a play is merely the libretto of an opera without the music. Mr. Barker's manner of speaking is, like his writing, crisp and literary in style, and he has too much wit to take himself too seriously.

The luncheon speakers were: Dr. David P. Barrows, newly-elected president of the University of California; Mrs. J. F. Sartori, regent of the university; Miss Nadine Crump of the university extension course in Southern California, Dr. Margaret S. McNaught, State Commissioner of Elementary Schools, and Mrs. A. S. Lobingier.

CAMPAIGN HERE FOR BETTER NUTRITION.

DAIRY COUNCIL'S SECRETARY COMES TO DIRECT WORK IN CITY SCHOOLS.

S. M. Greene, executive secretary of the California Dairy Council, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from San Francisco for the purpose of directing a campaign in the schools for the betterment of child health and physical development.

The recent milk survey conducted in Los Angeles by the California Dairy Council under the direction of Mr. Greene resulted in bringing out some surprising facts relative to the undernourished condition of a high percentage of the school children. It is in an effort to relieve this condition among the youth of Los Angeles, through education in the class rooms, that this campaign is being inaugurated.

Mr. Greene declares that this form of child welfare work is being conducted all over the United States both by the United States government, through the Department of Agriculture, and the National Dairy Council, of which the California Dairy Council is a unit.

"The most eminent government food experts and nutrition authorities from the leading schools and universities throughout the country are unanimous in declaring that milk is the most vital food for the proper nourishment and development of the child," says Mr. Greene.

He is at the Rossiyn Hotel and will explain the work of the Dairy Council in detail to those interested in the movement.

GUN DEATH ENIGMA'S KEY.

On the identification of a revolver, the ownership of which the police have been unable to establish, hangs two charges of murder and either liberty or jail for Mrs. Minnie Zeoli and her father-in-law, Michel Zeoli, both of whom are now held in the City Jail charged with suspicion of murder in connection with the shooting of John Zeoli, the woman's husband and the man's son. John Zeoli's body, with a bullet in the brain, was found early yesterday morning in his home, at 241 Moulton avenue. The revolver was found on the floor near the bed.

Police detectives who were called to the Zeoli home by Mrs. Zeoli found that the man had been slain while in bed. One shot from a heavy revolver was lodged in his head, and death, according to surgeons, had been instantaneous. Mrs. Zeoli, the police say, was in bed with her husband when the fatal shot was fired. Her father-in-law was in the house. Both assert that John Zeoli took his own life, following a family quarrel.

From what the police have been able to learn of the mysterious shooting, John Zeoli, during his fourteen years of married life, quarreled with his wife many times. On several occasions he beat her with his fists, and once so injured her that she spent some time in a hospital. Several days ago, after a quarrel, the husband, according to his wife, struck her on the head and seriously injured her. At that time she left her home, and returned only a short time before the killing.

Mrs. Zeoli yesterday told police officers that she had never before seen the revolver with which her husband was slain. Zeoli, the dead man's father, also denied he had ever seen the revolver. Both stated that John Zeoli must have purchased the weapon to end his life.

Police Detectives Leon and Williams yesterday said that the whole case hangs on the weapon, and efforts are now being made to establish who purchased the revolver.

BOARD VOTES NOT TO CLOSE SCHOOLS.

RIGID INSPECTION ORDERED; PUPILS WHO ARE ILL TO BE SENT HOME.

Definite action was taken yesterday at the meeting of the Board of Education not to close the schools at this time because of the reported influenza epidemic. A joint conference of the physicians of the city who are interested in the schools with the board developed into a unanimous vote in favor of keeping the schools open.

In order to keep the schools open, but check any possible spread of the epidemic, more rigorous health inspections are to be instituted in the schools. Children with colds and any symptoms of influenza will be removed from school. In order for them to re-enter it will be necessary to go to a readmission center and secure a card from the physician in charge.

All children having evidences of a marked cold, with coughing or sneezing, or who complain of aches or exhibit other symptoms of illness, are to be sent home, according to the bulletin issued from the superintendent's office. The State Board of Education has issued an order providing for the inspection of eyes, nose, throat and teeth of all pupils. The notice states that no exemptions will be made from this inspection.

At the conference, Dr. L. M. Powers stated that, in the opinion of the city health department, it is not necessary to close the schools if proper inspection measures are taken. Other physicians who attended and agreed with him are Dr. Geiger, Dr. S. D. Brooks, Dr. Ma. Lemoyne Wills and Dr. Herbert F. True, of the city schools. Dr. True has held during the entire epidemic that the schools should remain open, where the health of the children could be watched.

It was urged yesterday that parents should provide their children with umbrellas, rubbers and long rain coats for the rainy season. This, said the physicians, will minimize danger.

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps was under discussion by the board. A number of letters were read from principals and teachers on the success of the movement and all agreed that the students had been greatly helped in their personal appearance through the training.

HUSKY KICK IN POPULAR CIDER.

Beverage Assaying Over Ten Per Cent, Sold at Beach; Two Vendors Jailed.

Doubting that it was "mental suggestion" which gave the "kick" to grape cider, which had become the most popular beverage on the pier at Long Beach, officers raided the booth where the commodity was on sale last night and found that the beverage contains from 10 to 15 per cent. alcohol.

Mrs. Anita McLain and William D. Brooker, proprietors of the booth, are in the Long Beach jail in default of $500 bail, charged with violation of the liquor laws.

The booth was arranged to represent an old-time liquor house. On the varnished kegs containing the grape juice were printed such familiar old names as "Cedarbrook," "Old Crow," "Canadian Club" and "Wilson."

It is said the establishment had become a "snug harbor" for sailors from the fleet. A few raising and exposure to the air are believed to have furnished the "kick" to the cider.

SCIENTIST DIES AT PASADENA.

Famous Electrical Authority Taught at Throop.

English General on Visit to Crown City.

Campaign Attracts Members to Board of Trade.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Feb. 13.—Dr. Henry Smith Carhart, one of the most famous physicists and electrical authorities in the world, died early today at his home, 277 North El Molino avenue. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. Dr. Carhart was only ill a short time, being up and around until yesterday, although he had not been in good health for several weeks.

He had been a resident of Pasadena for eight years, coming here in 1912 as research associate in physics at the California Institute of Technology, formerly Throop College. In addition to his connection with the local college, Dr. Carhart was a member of the Board of Trustees at Occidental College and was prominent in church and club life in Pasadena.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ellen Soule Carhart, and two daughters, Margaret Sprague Carhart and Mrs. Evans R. Cheeseman of Pasadena; a son, Emory R. Carhart of Oklahoma City, and also a brother and sister, both of whom live in the East.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 3 o'clock at the chapel of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church. Dr. Carhart was a native of Coeymans, N. Y., where he was born March 27, 1844. He was graduated from Wesleyan College in 1869. He received degrees from a number of the leading colleges and universities. As early as 1881, Dr. Carhart became known as a scientist because of his experimental work on voltic cells. In 1872, Dr. Carhart became professor of physics at Northwestern University, where he remained until 1886, when he was called to the University of Michigan, to become head of the physics department. He was a member of the international jury of awards at the Paris Exposition in 1881; president of the board of judges in the department of electricity at the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893; was the United States delegate to two international electrical conventions, a delegate to the electric units convention in Berlin in 1905, and also a member of many other electrical conferences in fifty years of his experience. Dr. Carhart was the author of a number of books of electrical and physical subjects.

NOTED GENERAL COMES.

Maj.-Gen. T. D. Pilcher of the British army, with Mrs. Pilcher, arrived in Pasadena today and are guests at the Hotel Green. That the Allies have only themselves to thank for the present defiant attitude of Germany is the assertion of Gen. Pilcher.

"The German attitude today," said Gen. Pilcher, "is the direct consequence of our violating every principle of warfare in signing the armistice. The Germans are running true to form in repudiating their treaty pledges. Nothing more than broken promises can be expected of them."

Gen. Pilcher has served in the British army for forty years, having been stationed in India, South Africa and West Africa. In the World War he was seriously wounded in the battle at Ypres.

MAY GET TRYOUTS.

The Pasadena City Commission will decide at a meeting tomorrow morning whether it will authorize the expenditure of $5000 in improvements at Tournament Park in an effort to obtain the Pacific Coast tryouts for the Olympic athletic sports. It is proposed to construct a one-fourth-mile track, erect a number of grand stands and construct training quarters. Coach Raymond Dall of the California Institute of Technology is chairman of the plan to get the meet for Pasadena.

More than 1000 persons have joined the Pasadena Board of Trade in its big membership campaign during the week. The membership drive will not close until next Wednesday. To date 1088 members have been enrolled. The campaign is being held under the auspices of the American City Bureau.

Dr. Frederick Monsen, noted ethnologist, left today for New York City where he is to deliver a series of lectures at Columbia University. He will be away three months.

To make the postage stamps of the United States more artistic, a campaign has been started by Pasadena philatelists. W. H. Dodge is at the head of the movement which has been started by the Pasadena Stamp Club. The plan is to interest the government in issuing a series of five or six stamps depicting scenes in California.

WOMAN ACQUITTED.

Trial Ends with Strange Case Still a Mystery.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 13.—"Not guilty," announced the jury this afternoon in the trial of Lois Ynez Lewis, charged by Mrs. Minah F. Clark with assault with a deadly weapon, concluding a trial in the Superior Court that has been in progress for two weeks.

Mrs. Clark claimed that Mrs. Lewis had her eyes on costly jewels a hammer, intimating that Mrs. Lewis had her eyes on costly jewels kept in the Clark home.

Mrs. Lewis insisted she herself was attacked by Mrs. Clark, as she (Mrs. Lewis) was bartering for the purchase of some antique furniture. Testimony disclosed that a mysterious man had followed the two women through the Clark home while they were looking at the furniture. This is denied by Mrs. Clark, who also denies she had any furniture to sell. Both women are prominent.

The verdict was reached on the first ballot and returned within nine minutes after the case was given to the jurors, seven of whom were women.

CHIROPRACTORS PLAN LEGISLATIVE FIGHT.

MEET TO ORGANIZE DRIVE IN FAVOR OF BILL TO AID DRUGLESS HEALING.

To plan support for a bill to regulate the practice and the licensing of chiropractors, the Chiropractors' Association met last night. The bill, prepared to go on the ballot in November, would grant the exponents of this branch of healing the right to practice in this State under the supervision of a board.

By a court decision given here recently a member of the association was denied the right to practice his form of treatment. The association is now trying to unite all the practitioners in support of the bill. Boards have already been provided in thirteen States for the regulation of the profession.

Many views were expressed at last night's meeting, as some of the members of the association do not feel the bill is liberal enough. One member, who favors it, stated that fully 90 per cent. of the chiropractors in the State will support it, however.

Perris Rancher Loses Trees Planted on Twenty-Acre Tract.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 13.—The disappearance of a twenty-acre walnut grove from the property of Samuel Johnson, two miles north of Perris, last night, has convinced the owner that there is something more than mere superstition connected with the bad luck popularly attributed to the combination of Friday, the 13th.

When Mr. Johnson arose this morning he found that 254 young walnut trees had been taken out by the roots and carted off by unknown parties. The tops had been clipped off, presumably for the purpose of concealing the identity of the trees. Sheriff Wilson has been appealed to, and accordingly officers in all parts of the Southland are on the lookout for a truckload of thrifty young walnut trees, sans tops, but perfectly capable of growing new tops and developing into a wealth-producing grove.

OFFICERS WON'T TALK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE, Feb. 13.—Mystery surrounds the arrest of a man named Simmons, who registered from San Francisco, and who left here in the custody of United States revenue officers, a few hours after he had arrived from the north. From such information as could be gained here, Simmons, if that is his name, figures as the alleged leader of a group of whisky sellers, who are believed to have an extensive organization and who have been operating for some time between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Officers who made the arrests here would neither discuss the case, the identity of their prisoner or the nature of the charges.

HEAD WATER COMPANY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, Feb. 13.—Recently-elected directors of the San Antonio Water Company, a mutual organization supplying irrigation water to more than 600 ranchers in this district, today organized with A. Podrasnik, president; George B. Sell, vice-president; Glenn D. Smith, general manager, and W. C. Reynolds, secretary. T. R. Woodbridge, George B. Harrison and Hugh Latimer are also members of the board of directors.

HIGHEST PRICE FOR SAN DIMAS LEMONS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIMAS, Feb. 13.—Friday, the 13th, has no terrors for San Dimas lemon growers. They should worry about alleged hoodoo dates when one car of lemons, according to advices from Boston, sold on the market there yesterday for a sum that nets $3550 f.o.b. California.

This one car of prime San Dimas citrus product included consignments of Pet brand, which brought $10.20 a case, and Greyhound Choice, at $9.65. According to H. C. Foster, secretary-manager of the San Dimas Fruit Exchange, the car will net the total mentioned above. The San Dimas exchange now has two or three other cars of lemons en route to the Boston market, which it is confidently believed by the manager will bring equally phenomenal prices if the present demand continues. The price sold yesterday outshines even the peak of summer average prices and hence the San Dimas growers are rejoicing the good news which they believe not even the jinx of the double hoodoo can affect.

Conditions were never rosier, said Mr. Foster. He predicts for the lemon men, particularly of this favored district, a season on unexampled prosperity.

CLEANED THE CLEANERS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, Feb. 13.—Discovered in the act of tying their loot into bundles near the intersection of D street and Vine avenue early this morning by Martin Dilworth, who was returning to his home after attending a party, two burglars who had previously entered the dry cleaning department of a local laundry at 242 North Euclid avenue, dropped much of their booty and beat a hasty retreat through an orange grove.

The burglars had practically "cleaned the cleaners," taking more than a score of valuable suits of men's and women's clothes and women's evening gowns.

As a result of the growing number of burglaries in this city, members of the Ontario Business Men's Association in special session tonight took steps to secure a more adequate police patrol for the downtown section of the city at night.

ON MURDER CHARGE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, Feb. 13.—A warrant charging W. A. Jackson with the murder of Manuel Lopez Burgo, a Mexican, in this city three weeks ago, was issued by the District Attorney of Imperial county today, following a Coroner's inquest verdict exonerating Jackson.

Mexicans residing in the city protested to the State Department at Washington and it is understood that the Federal government took the matter up with Gov. Stephens, who asked the District Attorney what had been done in the case.

MURDER MYSTERY PUZZLES OFFICERS.

BLOOD-BESPATTERED AUTOMOBILE GIVES FIRST CLEW TO OFFICERS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, Feb. 13.—A touring car, with the front seat, doors and one running board drenched with what is declared to be human blood, was found during the night at Seven-Foot-Drop by Customs Inspector V. J. Montelsone.

Evidences of a death struggle, the murder of a woman and the flight of the murderer, under cover of darkness, are apparent. The case has been placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Henry Gonsales, who, with the aid of the Calexico police, is seeking for the suspected murderer.

Augustine Najabal of Calexico is the owner of the car. About 6:30 o'clock last night he was approached by a friend, Frank Romero, with a request for the loan of the car for the evening. Romero explaining that his own car was out of commission and being repaired.

Romero, it is said, has disappeared, and efforts to locate him today have been unavailing. It is stated that a young woman accompanied him in the car when he left the city during the evening. Her name is being withheld by the officials. Her mother is said to be prostrated with grief, believing the girl was murdered.

Seeing the car standing unoccupied near the Seven-Foot-Drop, Inspector Montelsone investigated, and when he discovered blood on the cushion of the front seat, on the inside of the door and covering the right running board, he decided a crime had been committed and looked for further evidences. These were found in blood on the ground and a trail apparently made by a body being dragged over the ground to a canal, a distance of about twenty-five feet.

MEETING TO DEMAND FULL INVESTIGATION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

IMPERIAL, Feb. 13.—Delegates of the Seeley and El Centro Chambers of Commerce, the Imperial Valley Auto Dealers' Association, the Bankers' Association, various farm centers and otehr organizations in the valley are to meet here at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to commence a county-wide investigation into actions of the County Highway Commission, consisting of Fred S. Lack, Brawley, chairman; L. J. Thomas, Imperial, and Mayor H. S. (Casey) Abbott, Calexico.

Inefficiency and alleged irregularities are charges brought against the commission, which have led several influential valley organizations to demand the resignations of the commissioners. It is expected that the meeting tomorrow afternoon will result in a general demand for the resignations of the members.

There is music and dancing each afternoon and evening.

Despite the attempt of union laborites all over Southern California to boycott the orange show because of their hatred for the Pacific Electric Railway, which has a line running out to Urbita Springs Park, the directors have succeeded in building, with the assistance of citrus growers and packers who are opposed to union attempts to throttle the citrus industry, a show which surpasses anything ever before attempted. The show directors have estimated that they will probably lose 3000 single paid admissions as a result of attempts to boycott the exhibition. In compensation for this each citrus association has purchased 100 family season tickets from the orange show management.

HE HOPES VICTIM WILL DIE.

Refusing to give the police any information, George Green, 20 years of age, of 1558 North Alexandria avenue, charged with shooting down Martin Pilot, 38 years, a taxi driver, as he sat in the rear seat of Pilot's automobile at North Normandie and Franklin avenues, late Thursday afternoon, yesterday said he hoped the wounded man would die.

"I shot him because I didn't like his looks and the way he talked. That is the only reason that I can give. I hope that he dies, and I don't care what they do to me." This statement is all that Police Detectives Cline and Hickok were able yesterday to secure from Green.

Green and a friend rented Pilot's automobile from his stand near Central Park early last Thursday. They ordered him to drive to Venice. At the beach the second man left the machine and did not return. Then Green, whose name Pilot did not know, ordered him to drive to a hotel in Ocean Park and then to return to the city.

While driving past Franklin on North Normandie avenue Green, who was sitting in the rear seat of the automobile, drew a revolver and without any warning shot Pilot in the back. He then shot the driver again, in the mouth, and, throwing him from the machine, drove away.

From information given the police by Pilot, Green was traced from Ocean Park to his home and was arrested while in bed. He refused to make any statement, and at first denied the shooting. Later he confessed, but refused to give any reason for the cold-blooded attempt at murder.

Green is an ex-Ione inmate. He was sent to the reform school after stealing the automobile of Judge Crail early in 1919. He was released during the first part of this year.

Pilot is in the County Hospital. According to surgeons, he may not recover. He was shot twice, once in the back, just below the left shoulder blade, and the second time in the mouth. If he dies the charge of murder will be placed against Green.

FIGHT WOMAN FOR ESTATE.

Charging that undue influence was used by A. B. Forman and Helena Pearl Forman of 2802 South Western avenue, this city, to induce Edgar T. Hallock, late owner of the Waldorf Hotel, Venice, to bequeath his estate to Mrs. Forman, two brothers of the deceased yesterday started a contest to the probate of the will. The value of the estate was estimated as $80,000, the appraisement being $68,102.58. The will has already been admitted to probate. The entire estate was bequeathed to Mrs. Forman.

The brothers, Horace Brown and William Henry Hallock, assert that Mr. and Mrs. Forman were confidential agents of the deceased, and that at the time the will was made they refused to allow others to communicate with him. They charge that Mr. and Mrs. Forman exercised a controlling influence over Mr. Hallock. One allegation is "that Helena Pearl Forman made long and extended trips to Alaska with Edgar T. Hallock, unaccompanied by her husband, but with his consent and connivance, so that she might exercise her influence over him."

Mr. Hallock died January 7, 1919. His estate includes the Waldorf Hotel property. He was 64 years old. Joseph Musgrove is attorney for the contestants.

LYRIC CLUB GIVES HADLEY CHORUS.

RAYMOND HARMON IS SOLOIST OF PROGRAMME AT TRINITY.

Henry Hadley has been claiming public attention by virtue of the presentation of his opera "Cleopatra's Night," which had its premiere within the past week at the Metropolitan Operahouse. Consequently the including of "The Legend of Granada," by this composer on the Woman's Lyric Club programme, given under J. B. Poulin's direction, last evening at Trinity Auditorium proved particularly timely. The music of this concerted number which has solos for soprano and tenor reveals Hadley's command of part writing in a very striking manner, and at the same time is a colorful adaptation of the Spanish rhythms to suit the mood of a varying picture. Raymond Harmon and Mrs. Alberta Luther were the soloists.

Mr. Harmon also sang a group of solos—one the beautiful "Pourquoi me Reveiller," from Massenet's "Werther." He also gave an effective number in "Come to the Woodland," by Parry. Purcell's "Passing By" afforded him opportunity for some nicely achieved effects in delicacy. Huerter's "Heart's Call" was the other number. Mr. Harmon has a voice of excellent compass and much lyric attractiveness.

Advance heraldings of spring were suggested in the opening choral numbers like "Day's Harbinger," with words from Milton, and "March" by R. Huntington Woodman. The double quartette selection, "Silently Swaying on the Water's Quiet Breast" (Chadwick) had charm.

A series of French compositions afforded a pretty contrast. The eighteenth century ballads were very pleasing. Miss Mary Teitsworth, mezzo soprano, sang the solo part. "Apres un Reve," by Faure possessed an elusive radiance.

That favorite song, "Where My Caravan Has Rested," in the Lucas arrangement, and the "Elfin Song," by Kienzl, in which Mrs. A. R. Jaquith rendered the vocal solos, were the remaining selections.

SENNETT PURCHASES TRACT NEAR PORTLAND

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 13.—Mack Sennet, comedy photoplay producer, featuring bathing girls in the niftiest of costumes, is reported to have purchased ten acres of wood land, located back of Westover Terrace in Portland for studio and scenic purposes. It is understood, too, and the story comes through a local real estate dealer who is considered reliable, but withholds his name, that Sennett is arranging to lease additional acreage adjoining his new purchase, inasmuch as he plans extensive range for his barefoot beauties.

The tract includes much wood land—shrubbery, trails, nooks and bowers, sylvan dells and all that sort of thing—and that is what Sennett wants. The report is that he is going to put his girls on now in the old classics, the skipping faun-stuff, the dance of the fairies on the greensward, beauty in the pool, etc., and the tale is that he has decided that Portland's hills can't be beat as a setting for this work. He will be close enough to the city to benefit from all modern conveniences, too, and he can get to the beach in a few hours if necessary.

DONATELLI ENGAGED FOR KINEMA ORCHESTRA

Nicola Donatelli has been engaged to preside over the new Kinema Orchestra, which will begin its duties at the Grand Avenue Theater tomorrow with the showing of Katherine MacDonald's film, "The Turning Point." Mr. Donatelli is now holding orchestral rehearsals. It is understood that one of the features of the new orchestra will be the predominance of string over brass instruments. Fourteen first and second violins are slated to occupy the first row under the baton. J. D. Calicott, manager of the theater, is calling for a complete rehearsal of the entire bill this morning. Donatelli has selected Suppe's "Light Cavalry" overture for the opening concert number.

Odd Sequence of Acts.

Although 'tis a wet week at the Orpheum just now, what with Eva Taylor's "Virginia Rye" on tap and Bernard and Duffy asking everyone to "Have a Smile," the dries may take pleasure in knowing that the forthcoming week is to be Saharan, in that "Extra Dry" is toplining the bill then—and the old sort of bottled extra dry is now verboten. However, let there be hope also for the thirsty, for two weeks hence the Orpheum will serve "A Rainbow Cocktail." These names of acts are accidental, so far as the present prohibition status is concerned. All were playing before January 16. It is merely a coincidence that they come to the Orpheum in so odd a sequence.

REAL EXCITEMENT FOR DALTON COMPANY.

Dorothy Dalton and her supporting company during the filming of "Black is White," showing at Clune's Broadway, had some startling experiences that were not set down in the "script" of the picture. Some of the scenes of the film take place in a jungle. To secure the proper atmosphere the players journeyed to Miami, Fla.

They had been on location only one day when the hurricane which swept over the South recently overtook them. At the time they were some fifteen miles from Miami, out in the country. The whole company was quickly packed into automobiles and driven at full speed back to the city. "Properties" were left behind in the rush and one valuable motion-picture camera was lost.

FINDS LOCATION AT HOME.

A number of the important scenes in "Stronger Than Death," the new Nazimova production now playing at the California Theater, were photographed on the grounds of the Russian star's handsome home in Laurel Canyon. The setting of the story, adapted by Charles Bryant from an I.A.R. Wylie novel, is India, but Nazimova's home, an extensive estate, proved an admirable counterfeit. It is planted with tropical trees and vines.

MORE STARS ON CLUB PROGRAMME.

Three names of prominence in the film and music world have been added to the list of notables who will appear on the Santa Fe Club's vaudeville programme this evening at Trinity Auditorium. They are: Bebe Daniels, the Lasky star; Monte Banks, the French screen pantomimist, and Anna Bess Carson, Denishawn dancer. With Will Rogers, Charlie Murray, Madame Mariska Aldrich, Clifford Lott and others already announced, a bill of unusual interest is promised by Manager Petrie.

PUPILS' RECITAL IS POSTPONED.

Announcement of the postponement of the recital to have been given today by the pupils of Mrs. Grace Bishop, pianist, and Miss Winifred Ballard, violinist, was made yesterday. No definite time has been set for the presentation of the programme. The recital was postponed on account of the illness of some of the children. It was to have taken place at the First Presbyterian Chapel, on the corner of Figueroa and Twentieth streets.

AUTHORITY ON ATMOSPHERE.

Lydia Yeamans Titus, who will be seen as Mme. Victoria De Melcourt in Goldwyn's picturization of Basil King's famous story "The Street Called Straight," the second Eminent Authors production announced for presentation next week at the California Theater, does other things besides appear in pictures. She is the stand-by of directors when they are a little uncertain as to the correct atmosphere for scenes in out-of-the-way places. Mrs. Titus has made forty trips to Europe and has been around the world four times. She has played on the legitimate stage in every English-speaking country in the world and has also acted in the Orient.

Just a Few Reasons WHY You Should Acquire a "Home of Your Own"

—Experts say the demand, for a long time to come, will far exceed the supply.

—Also, in their opinion, building materials will not come down — indications to the contrary are that there will be a rise.

—Present high rentals probably have no precedent. If you build a home to live in you will save a great deal of rental money. If you build for investment, the interest on your investment will be much greater than the same money can possibly earn in other channels.

House Description and Floor Plan.

This attractive dwelling, designed by John R. Avery for the R. C. Mitchell Company's Colonial Square, is reproduced as one combining comfort and simplicity. The arrangement of the rooms, in the opinion of the designer, offers unusual convenience for a small family. While the design is conventional, it is one that enjoys considerable popularity. The kitchen is finished in French gray enamel and the bath in tile.

PRIZE CONTEST LETTERS.

Answers that Won First and Second Place in "Times" Offer.

Brevity and clarity distinguish the letter of Miss Lelia K. Dodson, awarded first prize ($25 cash), in The Times' contest on "Why I Should Own My Own Home." The award to Miss Dodson was unanimous, it being the opinion of the three judges that she was not only entitled to first place in the contest, but that the letter should be forwarded to the Housing Committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce with the recommendation that it be preserved as a part of that committee's permanent records. The letter follows:

"To own my home, aside from the self-respecting independence which such privilege begets, is a primal, civic and patriotic duty.

"Primal, to provide abiding shelter for myself and those for whom I am responsible, thus to become a householder instead of a tenant.

"Civic, that I may take root in my community, become a factor in its progress, a fixture instead of a drifter, a neighbor instead of a stranger.

"Patriotic, that I may become a stable, accredited citizen with an established center of interest, for in such measure as I assume and regard the responsibility of home ownership do I become a worthier parent, friend and citizen.

"For the migratory who are neither here nor there, search the 'To Let' places, but for the solid phalanx of the nation's strength and worth, mark those homes, however frugal and unpretentious, which stand for the united ambition, effort and hope of the family.

"From such as these was born that army of victory which lately went forth and defended the homes of the world."

It so happened that a feminine contestant won second prize ($15.) This went to Miss Jennie Van Allen, who prepared her letter under the title, "Twenty Reasons Why I Should Own My Own Home." Miss Van Allen's reasons are both sentimental and practical, and it was the committee's judgment that they were clearly and sincerely expressed. Her letter follows:

"Because it is in my blood. For generations we have been land owners because we believed the safest investment was the earth that held the world together.

"Because home is the foundation of our national prosperity. Because home ownership is the first step in establishing my citizenship. Because I have to live somewhere and, unless I am a parasite living on the labor of others, I must pay board or rent or own my own home.

"Because I can own a home in Southern California if I do not shrink from the pinching process. Because I can buy a lot on the installment plan that is within the reach of a small wage-earner if willing to pioneer. Because I can build a shack and not suffer from inclement weather. And every dollar I spend makes my property more valuable.

"Because I can stock my land with fruit trees, plants and seeds through the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington, which supplies my seeds free. Because my garden in this delightful climate, where seeds can be planted every month in the year, makes me independent of food profiteers.

"Because I am less afraid of taxes and special assessments than of rent day—they come but once or twice a year; the landlord every month. Because I would not have my child born or reared in a rented house. My tenderest associations are the home of my childhood, where everything new marked an epoch in our family life.

"Because everyone, married or single, should own a home. Hotels, hall bedrooms or rooms with kitchen privileges are unspeakably cheerless and do not foster self-respect or good citizenship.

"Because my home gives me the finest sense of independence of any earthly possession. Because my home frees me from the possibility of being supported by public or private charity. Because I will never become an unwelcome legacy to generations yet unborn. Because, if that terrible day comes when I am bereft of all I hold most precious, I still can say 'I have a home.'

"Because, if I own a home, I cannot be dispossessed. Because my home makes me a better citizen, and the earning of it teaches conservation of time and money. Because my home makes me a factor in civic life. Because my home is the best-paying investment I can make. I cease to be a chattel. I am no longer a nonentity. I merited and commanded respect as soon as I began paying for a home. I became a power in my little world when I became a taxpayer. And when the perplexities of my business day are ended I rejoice to say, 'Good-night, I am going home.'"

Other prize-winning letters will be published in subsequent issues of The Times.

Every try it? Ever "muscle out" a ten-pound weight? Pretty heavy, isn't it? Fact is, it's a load that soon tires the strongest arm.

Not so with Buttonlath. Every square foot holds 10 or 20 pounds deadweight plaster year in and year out with never a check or crack in the plaster. It never gets tired—never shirks its duty, just gets an iron grip on the plaster and never lets go.

Buttonlath is absolutely fireproof, soundproof, a heat and cold insulator and has many advantages no other plaster base can offer.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Bankers Urge the Necessity of Slowing Down; Bond Market Good.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Every day we hear more and more of the absolute necessity of slowing down our extravagances and speeding up our production, conserving our savings and looking the situation fairly in the face. In Los Angeles far-seeing bankers and business men admit that this city is in good shape to weather the impending storm, but urge the danger of overconfidence. The slogan of produce more, work more, save more, spend less is being passed along to the employees in many stores, shops and factories.

A typical note of warning is struck by A. L. Lathrop, trust officer for the Union Bank and Trust Company, who takes the automobile for his simile. This auto, in other words the public and the government, took the steepest grade on the road, the war with Germany, then sealed the gears in high and forgot all slower speeds. Now we are going down the other side of the grade, but going down still in high. We are paying no attention to compression; no attention to the brakes at all. "On the contrary," Mr. Lathrop says, "we are standing up in the machine, watching the scenery go by, oblivious to the fact that at the bottom awaits a crash unless we slow down."

"Put on the brakes." That is the burden of his song, the refrain of which is gradually being taken up by business, and will later swell into a grand national chorus. "Cease this riot of senseless spending. Get back to the homely virtues of economy, thrift, work. Work and save. Here we have all the law and the prophets, the first and last words on the subject. Make the American people realize, definitely and concretely, that in the words, 'work and save,' lie the secret of their salvation from the miseries and ills to which their present path of recklessness and extravagance will inevitably lead. It's time to put on the brakes and go into low."

THE MONEY MARKET.

There appears no very good reason for believing an easier money market is likely to be realized immediately. On the other hand a considerable increase in the general level of Federal Reserve discount rates may be necessary to hasten the contraction of unessential credit. There are large demands for funds on one hand and on the other the necessity of strengthening the banking position by conserving credit.

Elliott C. McDougal, head of the Bank of Buffalo, a banker whose opinions are highly respected, thinks the time has come for curtailment of business expansion, and is frank to say so. He declares that feverishly rising prices with low production cannot continue; collapse is sure to come and cannot be far off. Do not delude yourselves, let no one delude you into the belief that the present era of high wages with easy jobs, of high prices with large and easy profits can continue." Speaking to the butcher, the grocer, the tailor, the dressmaker, the milliner and the retail dealer of every kind, he admonishes them thus: "Sell on credit just as little as possible. Don't let your customers get behind with their bills. As the outlook is today you would be better off without their trade than with their trade and constantly increasing book accounts. With all your care it will be hard for you to keep down your book accounts after the tide has turned. The time to act is now, when people are able to pay. Because we do not know when trouble is coming, we are unable to say to you: 'Begin to cut down your credits next year,' or 'the year after.' We do say: 'Begin now.' If a man cannot keep his bills up now he never can."

WE DEMAND TOO MUCH.

One reason for the high cost of foodstuffs is suggested by Robert Graham, chairman of the British food commission to the United States, who says that the American housewife appears to demand so much in the way of service that retail costs in some quarters of American cities are out of all proportion. Incidentally this is one of the excuses given by Los Angeles retailers in accounting for the wide spread of prices between dealers in different localities.

This consideration, however, is only on the surface and does not apply to commodities. The real difficulty is better expressed in a late national bank circular, which holds that the only way to overcome the actual scarcity of necessary goods which exists today is to cut down the average individual consumption. Unless this is done the individual consumer is getting more than his share.

The whole argument that wages must be advanced to cover rising costs of living, although plausible, is fallacious, because it assumes that each individual is entitled to have as much as though there were a full supply. The effect of raising wages under such conditions is to increase the demands upon the limited supply of goods, and raise prices.

There are two remedies for the situation, and only two, viz.: (1) Personal economy; let every person reduce his purchases as much as possible; (2) increased production; let every person do his part in his own way to relieve the existing shortage, and get the world back into easy conditions again.

Cold Storage Record.

The weekly report of cold-storage conditions in Los Angeles again reveals heavy excesses over the figures of a year ago. There has been a decrease in egg storage during the week, but a heavy gain in butter. There are 1043 crates of eggs on hand, against 1541 crates last week, and practically none a year ago. Butter storage has increased from 5195 pounds a year ago and 22,762 pounds a week ago to 48,354 pounds. Cheese shows a decrease from 881,762 pounds a week ago to 805,286 pounds, which compares with 234,678 pounds for the corresponding week in 1919. There are 401,820 boxes of apples on hand, against 356,827 a year ago and 423,862 last week. Potato surplus has increased from 35,580 sacks a week ago to 37,685. No report is available of the potato reserve last year, but it is said unofficially that the holdings were greater. Whether receipts have been lighter or the consumption greater does not appear. Onion storage has declined to 12,425 sacks compared with 20,920 sacks a week ago, but this is an increase for the year from 7850 sacks.

Local Stock Permits.

The Commissioner of Corporations has granted permits to the following Los Angeles concerns to sell and issue capital stock: To the Lowe-Ellis Company, to sell 1558 shares to certain persons at par for cash. This is a holding company for the Piggly Wiggly Company and the money will be invested in stock of that concern, which is also permitted to sell 1558 shares of its capital stock to certain individuals and the balance of 3442 shares to its officers, directors and employees. The Grand View Memorial Park, Inc., is authorized to issue 130 shares of its capital stock in exchange for land to be used for cemetery purposes. The company is permitted to sell seventy shares at par for $100 each. This is a cemetery association, with a capital stock of $26,000. Imperial Water Company No. 1 is also permitted to sell $75,000 worth of first-mortgage 7-per-cent serial bonds.

The Stock Market.

There was a better tone to the market yesterday. New York was stronger and this had a stimulating effect. The oil land leasing bill was finally signed by the President and this fact, together with the propaganda which has been circulated during the past few weeks to the effect that, in spite of increased production, there is likely to be a serious shortage this year, did not hurt the prices of this class of securities. There was a more optimistic feeling regarding the probability of a railroad strike, although this seemed to be little more than a hunch. Liberty Bonds closed slightly stronger than on Wednesday, but did not make up, to an appreciable degree, the slump which sent these issues down to new low levels. Trading was very light, but toward the close there was a gain in strength and confidence. National Pacific reacted to the leasing-bill news and about 16,000 shares went over from 13¾ to 14 cents. Republic Petroleum was stronger than for several days on the strength of development news from Richfield. At the close sales were recorded at 35¼ cents, but there was not supply enough to meet the demand. There was some trading in options at 40 cents. Union Oil was steady around $171.50, although a low of $170 was reached during the day. United advanced from 73 to 75 cents. Mt. Diablo sold at $1.54. Associated declined from $113 to $111 and there was nibbling in Jade at 17¼ cents. Industrials were at about Wednesday's level, and mines were involved in only scattered trading. Los Ange-

LOUISIANA WILL MILL STATE 1919 RICE CROP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—The directors of the Pacific Rice Growers' Association have decided to dispose of the remainder of the 1919 crop, toll, milling it with the Lake Charles Milling Company of Lake Charles, La.

In announcing today's decision, Joseph H. Stephens, president of the association, said about 500,000 bags of paddy rice, representing one-seventh of the season's production, would be disposed of in this way and that the transaction involves $3,500,000.

Stephens said that the growers through Louisiana milling hoped to avoid the evil guesses of what he declared was a combination among California rice mill owners to force the price of rice below its value.

SPAIN'S PRODUCTION OF WHEAT DECREASES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MADRID, Feb. 13.—Production of wheat in Spain has suffered a great decrease, said R. Gasset, former Minister of Public Works and leader of the Agrarian party in the Cortes today. He declared this was due to the farmers' discontent with the fixing of wheat prices, and demanded that measures be taken to prevent agriculturists from turning their efforts to the production of other articles of consumption.

Senor Gasset declared that if wheat production continued to decline Spain would be compelled to import more from South America and that capital would thus leave the country to pay for cereals which she could produce more economically herself.

PRODUCE MARKET IS FIRM AND ACTIVE.

POTATOES SLUMP SHARPLY UNDER DULL DEMAND; CABBAGE IS WEAK.

Although arrivals from the country were very heavy, particularly during the early hours of the morning, prices for most commodities were firm and unchanged during yesterday's trading on the local produce market. The market lacked activity, with the exception of cabbage, which was steady throughout the session at the prices of the preceding day. Under an active buying demand the movement of produce into the hands of the wholesale and retail trade was rapid, and by the end of the session found only a little stock of prime quality remaining on the floor of the market.

Cabbage moved up on a strong and advancing market, good stock selling for $2.50 per bbl. crate, an increase of 25 cents per crate. The shipping demand for good cauliflower is again very brisk, and with available supplies small, further price advances are expected. Onions, shipping and pamphire were in greater amount of the quality of supply, though prices as high as 60 cents per dozen bunches were paid, as compared with Thursday's top price of 55 cents per dozen. Turnips sold at a premium of 25 cents per sack for the fancy grades, with demand and movement active at the higher level. Parsnips made an advance of 25 cents per 100 lbs., sacks selling at $3.50, as did also carrots. Heavy supplies of cabbage together with a dull demand on the part of the shippers caused prices to decline sharply, car load crates of which was selling as low as $2.10 to $2.50 as compared with Thursday's range of $2.50 to $4.25. In sacks, cabbage moved at 2 cents per lb., 60 cents each, and celery was unchanged at 60 cents per dozen bunches. Lettuce was steady, with the majority of sales made at $5.25 per crate. Tomatoes, owing to the poor quality of the offerings, were slow of sale, and prices declined during the past four days, yesterday's quotations being $3.50@4 per crate, as compared with Thursday's top price of $5 per crate. Potatoes were weak, selling as low as $2.25 per 100 lbs., sacks, as compared with Thursday's top price of $3.25 per 100 lbs., sacks. Cucumbers were steady, selling at $2.50 per dozen, while eggplant was unchanged at 10 cents per lb. Green peppers were in good demand, selling at 15 cents per lb., as compared with Thursday's top price of 12½ cents per lb. Garlic was steady, with prices ranging from 10 cents to 12½ cents per lb. Beans were unchanged, selling at 15 cents per lb. for the fancy grades, with the majority of sales made at 12½ cents per lb. Mushrooms were steady, the quality of the offerings being poor, a factor which is weakening the market. Lemons again showed considerable weakness, as low as $3 per box being quoted on the poorer grades, while fancy stock was selling at $4.50 per box. Oranges were firm, with the demand fairly active. Grapefruit was steady, with prices ranging from $3 to $4.50 per box, as compared with Thursday's top price of $4.50 per box. Pineapples were unchanged, selling at $3 per dozen. Apples were in good demand, with prices ranging from $2.50 to $3.50 per box, as compared with Thursday's top price of $3.50 per box. Pears were steady, selling at $2.50 per box. Persimmons were unchanged, selling at $2.50 per box. Avocados were steady, selling at $2.50 per box. Grapes were in good demand, selling at $3 per box. Strawberries were unchanged, selling at $6 per crate. Figs were steady, selling at $2.50 per box. Limes were unchanged, selling at $3 per box. Pomegranates were steady, selling at $2.50 per box. Watermelons were unchanged, selling at $3 per box. Cantaloupes were steady, selling at $2.50 per box. Casabas were unchanged, selling at $2.50 per box. Honeydews were steady, selling at $2.50 per box.

The potato market is showing no signs of rallying from the present depressed condition, and, with practically no buying demand in evidence, prices are lower. Thursday's trading was of a hand-to-mouth character, with buyers taking only enough stock to fill their immediate needs. Sacked stock was selling at $2.25 per 100 lbs., as compared with Thursday's top price of $2.75 per 100 lbs., sacks. The potato market is expected to remain in a demoralized condition for the next few days, with practically no buying demand in evidence. Receipts for the past 24 hours were 13 cars, a normal quantity for this season of the year, while heavy stocks are piled up on the docks at San Pedro awaiting shipment to this market. Sweet potatoes were steady, selling as low as $2.50 per 100 lbs., sacks, as compared with Thursday's top price of $3 per 100 lbs., sacks. Onions were unchanged, selling at 2 cents per lb. Prices for this commodity were steady, ranging from 3 to 10 cents per pound, a fall of 2 cents per pound from Thursday's top quotation. Receipts yesterday totaled 172 sacks, as compared with 53 sacks of the preceding day.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Stocks were subjected to additional price impairment in the first half of today's unsettled dealings, but rallied spiritedly later when demand loans eased to 6 per cent. and foreign exchange displayed increased firmness.

The rally was led by and assumed most substantial proportions in oils and shippings, where extreme gains of three to ten points were scored. Steels, equipments and motors also made up the greater part, if not all, of their losses, the extent of their rebound ranging from two to twelve points.

Best quotations were recorded in the final hour, rumors then circulated on the stock exchange taking the form of a temporary settlement of differences between the railroad workers and the government.

Shorts were severely punished in General Motors and Crucible Steel, the former regaining its nine-and-one-half-point loss and an additional three and one-half points, while Crucible retrieved all of its eleven-point decline. Sales amounted to 1,375,000 shares.

Interborough Rapid Transit 5s were the features of the bond market, rising four and one-quarter points. The general list was irregular, internationals hardening with moderate recessions in Liberty issues. Sales (par value) aggregated $15,475,000. Old United States bonds unchanged on call.

Call money easy; high, 7; low, 6; ruling rate, 7; closing bid, 6; offered at 7; last loan, 6.

Mercantile paper, 6@6 1-4. Sterling, demand, 3.41; cables, 3.41¾. Time loans, strong; all dates, 8½. Bar silver, 1.32; Mexican dollars, 1.01½.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Bar silver, 83⅝d per ounce. Money and discount unchanged.

THE WOOL MARKET: PRICES IN BOSTON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Feb. 13.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"Interest in the wool market has been centered chiefly upon the government wool auctions while withdrawals have been rather heavy on account of poor selection, the finer grades of the finer grades have moved fairly well, while the lower grades of medium and cross-bred wools have been little above withdrawal limits and frequently withdrawn. Private trading has been limited.

"The manufacturers are opening their goods at prices pretty close to the level established by the American Woolen Company last week."

MUST PUT UP BOND OR GIVE UP GOODS.

ORDER TO MRS. HUGHES, IN CROUCH SUIT OVER ANTIQUES AND GEMS.

If Mrs. Gertrude Osmun Hughes, wife of Thomas Hughes, millionaire politician, puts up a $6000 bond, she may retain the antiques and rare jewelry, which were to have been the nucleus of a fashionable showroom at 1205 Shatto place, until the trial of the replevin suit of Harry B. Crouch. If the bond is not put up, the property will be delivered to Mr. Crouch, who claims it. This was the decision by Judge Jackson yesterday.

The court denied the motion of Attorney Kase to quash the proceedings, but dismissed the order to show cause why Mrs. Hughes should not be restrained from selling the antiques and jewelry.

Mr. Crouch and Mrs. Hughes proposed to open a showroom to be patronized by wealthy tourists. When they met to sign an agreement, Mrs. Hughes, it is said, declared the agreement unfair. The antiques and jewelry had been placed in the Shatto place showroom, which had been leased for the purpose, and it is claimed that Mrs. Hughes locked the doors, refusing to permit Mr. Crouch to recover possession of his goods. He is represented by Attorneys Lewis and Blodgett.

MUSIC BY WIRE.

Pianist's Birthday Party, With Him Away, Has Unique Feature.

With a long-distance telephone piano recital, played in New York, as a unique feature the fiftieth birthday of Leopold Godowsky, world-famed piano virtuoso, was celebrated last night at his home here, 626 South Alexandria avenue, by Mrs. Godowsky and family.

The wife of the pianist invited a few close friends to dine in honor of her husband, at the same time that he was entertained quietly in New York by friends, who included members of the Beethoven Society, an organization made up of such world-famed musicians as Fritz Kreisler, Mischa Elman, Rudolph Ganz, Ossip Gabrilowitsch and others.

Just after the dinner in New York Mr. Godowsky telephoned his family here, including his wife, a daughter, Vanita, and two sons, Leopold, Jr., and Guntram Godowsky. After a short conversation, Mr. Godowsky sat down at the piano and played a selection from his newest concert composition. A special mouthpiece was constructed on the telephone, and Mrs. Godowsky's guests were able to hear the notes of the piano clearly.

Honorable L. J. Wilde, Mayor of San Diego, California. My dear Mr. Mayor:—I enclose check for $500.00 as my contribution to your Commonwealth Oil undertaking. As a member of the Commonwealth of San Diego, I am glad to subscribe to anything that offers some promise of adding to the prosperity of San Diego. I do not believe the possibilities of locating oil in San Diego have been definitely settled. If oil be found, it would be of immense value to the City and County. So I add my contribution with best wishes for good luck in the enterprise. Yours very truly,

John D. Spreckels

Honorable L. J. Wilde, Mayor of San Diego, San Diego, California. My dear Mr. Wilde:—Enclose please find my check for $100.00, and I assure you it gives me great pleasure to be an associate of yours in this worthy enterprise. I would have sent this yesterday had I known the address to which you desired it sent. Wishing you the best of success in this undertaking, I beg to remain, Respectfully yours,

A. J. Cohn

GROVE CITY COLLEGE, GROVE CITY, PA.

What Prof. Arthur Ramsey of the Department of Mathematics says:

Mr. L. J. Wilde, San Diego, Cal. Dear Mr. Wilde: I am enclosing herewith a receipt for my certificate for one more unit in the Community Oil Well. At this time I can hardly refrain from venturing a few words of encouragement, however little they may be needed. Doubtless you have read of the wonderful McKeesport Gas Field and of Mr. Foster, who put McKeesport on the map, in gas circles. I was over to McKeesport two months ago—it is about 6 hundred miles from Grove City—and saw firsthand some of the excitement over there as a result of the discovery of the great gas field. Partnerships similar to the Community Oil Well are being organized and capitalized at from $50,000.00 upward to $125,000, consisting of from 250 shares to 1000 shares or more, and in some cases are sold out in four or five days. As a man over there said, McKeesport is gas mad. Now, by way of encouragement, I heard it remarked over there that Mr. Foster put down eleven unprofitable wells before he struck the big one, the 12,000,000 cubic foot gusher, which is said to yield the shareholders about $2000.00 per month on an investment of $150.00. Mr. Foster had his advantages, however, of operating in a field in which there was known to be some gas; that is, it was not an absolutely unproven field. I am thinking of Broadway, San Diego, from the San Diego Hotel up to Sixth or Seventh streets, windows here and there on either side of the street bedecked with derricks and advertising partnerships—"The Reliance Oil and Gas Co.," "The Pinnacle Oil and Gas Co.," "The Smith Oil and Gas Co.," "The San Diego Development Co." etc., etc. Can these things be? Can such a dream come true? It seems to me it is up to you, Mr. Wilde, now or never.

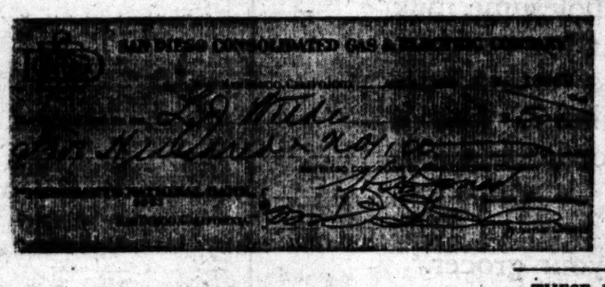
Yours truly,
ARTHUR RAMSEY.

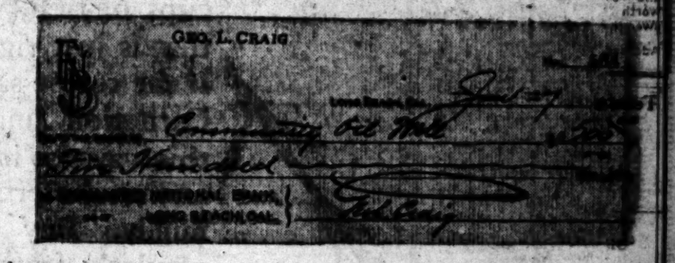
No promises can be made except a dependable, above-board, square deal as this is a jazz-cat gamble, pure and simple, and you should go in with a long-shot understanding, chancing the amount you can well afford to lose without any strings to it whatever.

On the other hand, should San Diego County, or elsewhere, furnish a community oil producer, and any other important hidden values, your one hundred dollar unit gamble could be worth upwards to $20,000. This is made possible only under a comprehensive, co-operative system of the unit community plan—large acreage—small capital—home development—nerve—cash and good boosters to back you up. THIS IS A JACK-POT FOR SOMETHING WORTH WHILE OR NOTHING.

Please do not write long letters—questions answered here — no prospectus, literature or unnecessary expenses.

Write your name and address plainly and send your check or draft to L. J. Wilde, 377 Spreckels Building, San Diego, California





THESE THINGS HAPPEN

One well in the midcontinent field has produced an average of 1000 barrels a day for fourteen months, a total product of over $1,000,000 on an initial investment of $25,000. Nor need one tell more than a half truth about the Trapshooters' company and still be able to dumbfound the credulous prospect. Originally it consisted of a dozen members of a gun club, who invested $250 each. The first well was 200 barrels a day; the second started at 14,000 barrels a day. Soon they had so much money they could give all their time to the gun club. One $100 share sold for $41,000. Over $6,000,000 has been paid on their royalties to Indian wards—Osages, Cherokees, Creeks.

(Associated Press)

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Nov. 4.—William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, today bought a 30-acre oil lease near Wichita Falls, paying $1000 an acre. "I am willing to take a chance," was the only comment he made.

QUIZ MERCHANT IN PASS FRAUD.

Woman Confesses; More Tools of Gang Discovered.

A prominent Broadway merchant spent an uncomfortable half hour in the office of Special Agent Connell of the Department of Justice yesterday afternoon, telling what he knew about the bogus pass disclosures now attracting much attention the country over. He said he knew Theodore W. Powell, the asserted principal in the counterfeit pass business, understood that he had a pass in his possession that would enable him to travel all over the country, but categorically asserted that his knowledge of the affair was limited to a casual acquaintance with Powell.

The business man was sent for on account of information that had come to some of the Federal officers that he had sold or knew of the selling of the pass found in possession of F. L. Price, a business man of this city, who, with his wife, was arrested as he stepped off a Pennsylvania train, yesterday morning, in New York.

It is stated that the pass found in possession of Price was made out in his name as division claim agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Price is a member of a firm of local tire dealers.

New evidence against the gang was uncovered in Portland yesterday by Federal agents in the form of the oiled paper, paraffin and electric iron used by the counterfeiters to make the bogus passes. Powell insisted that his former partner in a detective agency here is the man who actually did the work. He said this man gave him the passes to deliver and that he only got $180 of the money paid for them.

Mrs. Powell was arrested at noon yesterday, as she arrived in Portland from Vancouver, where she had gone with her 4-year-old daughter immediately after her husbands' arrest. Deputy marshals will leave Portland Monday for Los Angeles with the pair. Mrs. Powell is much cooler than her husband. She said she knew there was something wrong with the passes, but that she did not ask questions.

Chicago advices state that Mrs. Esther Field, arrested there as one of the gang, now gives her real name as Esther Kleinfield, a native of Russia. She lived in Chicago with her sister until forced to go West for her health. There, Louis Gordon, her employer, followed her, she said, and she says he also is involved in the fraud case. He is under arrest here. She made a complete confession of her part in it, declaring that her only offense was using one of the fake passes to go back to Chicago to see her sister, who she feared was sick of influenza. She will leave for Los Angeles tomorrow.

Evidence accumulating in the possession of Special Agent Connell indicates that Powell did a land office business in the sale of counterfeit passes, and that among others he employed to peddle the pasteboards, and collect the money, was his aged father, David A. Weatherby, who admits that he delivered one of the passes to a certain party in Los Angeles, but no sale was made, for the reason that the intended purchaser appeared to be afraid to take a chance on the pass being good.

The bonds of Weatherby and Ned Williams, chief of the bellboys in a local hotel, were reduced from $2000 to $1000 yesterday, and Williams furnished bond in the shape of two $500 Liberty Bonds.

Coupled with the statement that Powell has made a full confession to the Federal officers, the belief is expressed that if he tells a complete story there will be a general ducking of heads in this city. Whether or not he will fully unbosom himself remains yet to be seen.

But there is enough information now in the hands of Special Agent Connell to warrant the belief that a remunerative trade was carried on by Powell and his confederates.

Yesterday afternoon a half-dozen people who had invested in the counterfeit passes saw Mr. Connell. They were all anxious to get under cover. One lady had spent $120 for a pass.

That quick action has been determined upon by U. S. Attorney O'Connor was indicated yesterday afternoon, by the fact that after the Federal grand jury had made a partial report, the body was immediately reconvened by Assistant U. S. Attorney Lawson. There will be no session of the grand jury until next Friday, but the ground was broken for a complete investigation into the pass situation.

VETERAN WEDS.

J. D. Richards, veteran overseas soldier and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Richards of 830 South New Hampshire street, was married yesterday in the chapel of St. Basil's by Rev. Friar Hughes to Miss Luella Clark, of this city. Mr. Richards was a master signal electrician in the army and saw service through the Argonne offensive. He is now in the oil business at Fort Worth, where he and his bride will reside.

THINKS BONES ARE HUSBAND'S.

Bereft Wife Bares Story of Strange Disappearance and of Insanity.

Asserting she thought that the human bones found in a box on the property of R. H. Minnear, 556 East Sixty-fourth street, were those of her husband, Robert Early, who disappeared February 9, 1917, Mrs. W. Early yesterday made a statement of the circumstances of the case to Deputy Sheriff Manning, superintendent of the criminal investigation for the Sheriff.

Mrs. Early, who resides at 309 Emily street, Watts, said: "My husband was working for J. W. Kent at the Kent station and lived in a small house at the rear of Mr. Kent's residence. Mr. Kent told me that my husband had been drinking and that he, Mr. Kent, had to hit Mr. Early to put him to bed."

Mr. Early disappeared about that time, Mrs. Early said, and eighteen months ago Mr. Kent became insane and later died.

MANY CHARGES IN WILL FIGHT.

Inventor's Nieces Hit at Friends and Relatives.

Say Man Who Left Large Sum was Unduly Influenced.

Charity Bequests are Illegal, is Further Accusation.

On the ground that more than one-third of the estate of John Hadley Osborn, an inventor, who died February 2, 1919, leaving an estate estimated at worth close to $200,000, was left, contrary to law, to charitable and religious organizations, two nieces of the deceased yesterday filed a suit contesting the probate of the will. The contestants are Etta Eldora Osborn Loveland and Ella J. Ordway, nieces of the deceased, residing in Massachusetts. J. H. Ryckman is their attorney.

The contestants further assert that the deceased was not of sound mind and memory when he made his will, because of a long illness and advanced age. It is also declared that the will is invalidated by vague descriptions of the charitable institutions, and that the deceased was unduly influenced by friends and relatives. The estate has already been partly distributed, the will having been admitted to probate a year ago.

The estate includes bonds and other securities worth $160,000, the appraisment being $176,172. The bequests include to friends and relatives totalled $114,000, ranging from $1000 to $10,000. The residue was left to the Methodist Board of Latin-American Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Southern California, the Volunteers of America, the David and Margaret Home for Children and the Jewish Evangelist Work of California.

Among the $10,000 bequests were those to Ernest Wesley Hood, a nephew; John Wesley Osborn, brother; Alice Anderson, Lillian A. Bollfesuller, Etta May Waters, nieces, and to M. Inez Switzer and Lillian Marks Kelley.

HOTEL GUEST ROBBED OF THIRTY THOUSAND.

GEMS AND BONDS TAKEN FROM BENEATH PILLOW WHILE VICTIM SLEPT.

A small handbag containing jewelry and non-negotiable bonds, valued at $34,000 was the loot secured by a sneak thief early yesterday morning from beneath the pillow of S. J. Ward, an Indianapolis capitalist as he slept in a downtown hotel. The bag was taken by the thief, who entered Ward's room after Mrs. Ward had gone to keep an appointment with her mother, and was not missed until Mrs. Ward returned to awaken her husband. No trace of the thief was discovered by police detectives, who investigated the case.

From what the police were able to learn yesterday, the Ward family came to this city on Thursday. Mr. Ward was unable to deposit the bonds in a bank yesterday on account of its being Lincoln's birthday and placed them in a small bag under his pillow for safe keeping. With his wife, Mr. Ward retired early Thursday night. The police say a pass key was used by the thief to gain entrance to the room.

The bonds, according to the list presented by Mr. Ward, were Citizens' Gas Company bonds of Indianapolis, Liberty Bonds and Swiss government bonds. Some jewelry and a small amount of cash were also taken.

DIVORCES GALORE.

Your Misfortune to Marry into Such a Family, Court Tells Husband.

The divorce case of Samuel W. Miller against Leora B. Miller, tried by Judge Taft yesterday gave him food for thought. He learned that Mr. Miller is a steam engineer, and that his wife is working in a laundry. She left him after a married life of eight years.

The court also discovered that Mrs. Miller was a divorcee when she married Mr. Miller, and her sister, who was a witness for her brother-in-law, had been divorced, and her second suit is pending.

Judge Taft said it was Mr. Miller's misfortune to marry into a divorce family. The evidence was sufficient to grant him a decree, the court said.

"This sort of a development seems strange where a wife prefers to work in a laundry rather than to live on an engineer's salary," said the court.

SENTENCED FOR HURLING CAUSTIC

Victim Loses Eye; Assailant is Given One to Fourteen Year Term.

Floyd Miller, who pleaded guilty to assault with caustic chemicals upon George Irwin, a cook at a restaurant at 1052 South Main street, on December 17, was sentenced yesterday for from one to fourteen years in San Quentin by Judge Craig. This is the first case of its kind to appear in the courts in this county in several years, and one of few convictions.

Miller threw ammonia in the face of the cook, grabbed $1 in a cash register, and fled. The case was prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney Fricke. Irwin is now blind in one eye.

DENY PERIL IN PHONE STRIKE.

Company Says Very Few will Obey Walkout Order.

"American Plan" Agreements with Workers Cited.

Public Declared Unwilling to Stand Service Break.

We are advised that the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers has issued orders to go on strike Saturday morning at 8 o'clock unless the company accedes to their demands by 8 p.m., today. (Friday.)

The company states that it cannot meet the demands of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers for higher wages and closed shop. The company has had contractual relations for several years past with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, which organization represented certain of the electrical working employees in the company's plant department, and which employees were members of the I.B.E.W. organization. At the conclusion of the strike last July the company offered to enter into an agreement with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers for those plant employees who were members of the electrical workers' organization. This agreement was to confirm the wage and working conditions which were given at the termination of the strike for the men affected. This offer, however, was voted down by that organization.

Since that time the company has met with the officers representing the I.B.E.W. and committees of those plant employees who were members of the I.B.E.W. and at each of these meetings the company again offered to enter into the same agreement as was offered them last July, but the company stated to the committee that it would prefer to enter into a new form of agreement as the old form has become obsolete and that, to enable the company to provide more profitable employment for this class of plant employees, it suggested a new form of agreement which would enable the company and the employees affected to work more closely in solving the wage and employment conditions. This plan was not accepted by the international.

In the meantime many of our employees advise that they would not strike under any consideration and requests began to come into the company from those employees that the company deal with them under the American plan, that it, through associations formed exclusively of employees. We advised all employees making such requests that the company would deal with them along these lines and as a consequence many associations have been formed through the company's territory. Today the central office men, the telephone repair men and telephone installers in Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco, Oakland, Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Spokane, Sacramento and many other points have formed associations and have entered into working agreements with the telephone company.

These working agreements provide that there shall be no strikes or lockouts. They also provide better wage and working conditions than have been in effect heretofore and have established means whereby closer co-operation between the company and its employees can be maintained. These various associations have a membership today of over 1500 and many employees who heretofore were not members are joining associations daily.

The company cannot meet the demands of the I.B.E.W., and does not desire to enter into agreements, the forms of which are obsolete. The company is convinced that the bulk of its employees do not desire to take any strike action and will make every effort to co-operate with its employees as evidenced by the signing of agreements with the various associations. It feels that the employees have a real interest in rendering satisfactory service to the public and by dealing with the company through the associations, more satisfactory service will result.

The company is confident that the thinking public will not support a strike as the company is convinced that the public demands and requires a continuity of service, a break in which, if caused by the agitating element, cannot be justified. If a strike is called Saturday at 8 a.m., it will of necessity only affect a very small percentage of the company's employees as the bulk of the company's employees have signified their belief in themselves and in the company by signing agreements with the associations on the American plan, which makes for the best wage and working conditions possible.

The strike of the plant men and other telephone employees is effective this morning on all Coast systems and lines in Idaho, Nevada and Arizona. At present the strike does not include the telephone operators, but Miss Julia O'Connor, international president of the operators' organization, is now in San Francisco, in conference with brotherhood officers, and some action by the operators is expected by the strikers.

R. J. Jackson, head of local No. 370 of Los Angeles, presided at an open mass meeting of all employees of the companies at the Labor Temple last night. Between 400 and 500 were in attendance. The local officials claimed between 1200 and 1500 employees will go on strike in the Southern California district. The meeting, they said, was for the purpose of discussing the strike situation, and no action was expected to be taken by any of the local organizations. The strikers ask $7 a day. The trouble is said to be the outgrowth of the recent strike on the Pacific Coast, in which the men demanded $6.40 a day and went to work on a schedule calling for $6.

CLARK, JEWEL EXPERT, EXONERATED BY JURY.

After several prominent citizens of Los Angeles had appeared as character witnesses for Edward A. Clark, a diamond expert, accused of defrauding George E. Stith out of a $2000 diamond ring by substituting one of less value, a jury yesterday acquitted the defendant, who was released by order of Judge Willis Boyle. Workman, president of the City Council, and others testified as to Mr. Clark's reputation. H. G. Geisler and W. A. Robertson were attorneys for the defense.
